

TWENTY-THREE NAMES ARE CERTIFIED BY BOARD TODAY

District Board Informed This Number of Men From Rush County Are Ready for Service.

HOW LIST IS FINALLY MADE UP

Local Board Discovers Six Are Credited With Asking Exemptions Who Did Not Do So.

TWO ARE DENIED EXEMPTIONS

Three Men's Claims For Discharge on Grounds of Having Dependents Are Allowed.

Twenty-three names of Rush county young men were certified today by the local selection board to the district board as being ready to serve in the new national army. These twenty-three men were taken from the list of those who filed no claims for exemption and after the board had acted on several claims for exemption.

The board was in session this afternoon when more claims will receive official notice. Due to an error in the records of the board it was stated yesterday that fifteen men filed no claims for exemption. In checking up the list the board found that six men had been given credit for filing claims when as a matter of fact they did not ask exemption. This made a total of twenty-one men who did not ask exemption.

Then today the board refused two claims for exemption and added the two names to the certified list sent the district board and this brought the total of the first day's work of actually selecting men up to twenty-three. All names have been checked and re-checked and the twenty-three names appearing in another column as the first 23 certified by the board absolutely official.

Even with 23 men almost sure of going from this county out of the first 132 called, the work of securing the county's quota of 66 men will not be so difficult. Almost one-third of the number has been secured and there are some more names which will be added to the list as the board finishes passing on the claims for exemption, as it is practically certain that some of the men will be refused exemption.

The first official action of the board shows that Michael Ansberry and Harry E. Clark, both of this city, were refused claims for exemption. Both asked claims because of dependents. Ansberry is a freight conductor on the Big Four railway. It was shown to the satisfaction of the board that he was not the sole support of his mother and the same held true in the case of Clark.

The first three men to get exemptions from military service were Claude Jessee of Carthage, John Ringenberg of Manilla and Crawford A. Shadoan of Carthage. All are day laborers and are the sole supports of their families. The men refused exemptions have the right of appeal to the district board, but it is not likely that the appeal in the two cases passed on today will be taken there on the grounds on which the original claim for exemption was filed.

The board today heard from Edward S. Combs, the one man whose official notification to appear before the board for physical examination came back to the board as being undeliverable by the postal authorities. When Combs registered he gave his address as Covington, Ky. The letter failed to find him there and his mother wrote the board that she believed him in Detroit. Today a postal card was received addressed to the "Mayor of Glenwood." The authorities at Glenwood turned the card over to the local board. It was

PRESIDENT SIGNS FOOD CONTROL BILL

As he Signs Measure Hoover Gets
Evidence of Attempt to Corner
California Tomatoes.

RESULT OF THE FIRST PROBE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The food control bill is now a law. Even as President Wilson affixed his signature this afternoon the federal trade commission placed before Herbert C. Hoover evidence of an alleged attempt to corner the output of California's tomato canning factories.

It was one of the first results of the commission's investigation into food prices. Hope of nearly $10,000,000 excess profits by army contractors, was said to be back of the move to buy up the California output.

Food control throughout the country probably will be ordered late today. Hoover has placed before the president the names of men he desires to be placed at the head of the different state organizations. With the president's approval of these, Hoover will be given full authority to go ahead.

SILLO CAMPAIGN.

(By United Press.)

Connersville, Ind., Aug. 10.—J. W. Schwab, of Purdue university, and county agricultural agent, Alfred T. Morrison left here today on an automobile tour of Fayette county in the interest of the silo construction campaign and to promote the breeding of high class live stock. Schwab is a national authority on live stock subjects.

FARMER HANGS HIMSELF

Greenfield, Ind., Aug. 10.—John E. Morrison, 70 years old, a farmer, hanged himself Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Matthews, two miles north of Eden. Mr. Morrison was a member of the Masonic Lodge and was active in political circles in Hancock County in his early days.

JOHN W. HUMES APPOINTED

Will Succeed A. N. Newbold as County Infirmary Superintendent

John W. Humes, a well-known Rush county farmer, was appointed superintendent of the county poor infirmary by the county board of commissioners yesterday. He will begin a term of four years the first of next March when A. N. Newbold's term of four years expires.

MANY SORE ARMS AT CAMP WOLFE

Vaccinations of Members of Company B Administered Yesterday Begins to "Take"

FEDERAL TEST IS FINISHED

Men Expect Many Visitors This Afternoon When Senator James E. Watson Speaks At 4:50

Camp Edward H. Wolfe, Aug. 10.—Sore arms were very much in evidence today among the members of Company B, and from all indications there will be many more sore arms tomorrow as the vaccinations administered yesterday and today begin to "take." The work of examining the men under the directions of Lt. Wells was completed by noon today.

As a result of the vaccinations active work was dispensed with and the men were not put through long hard drills. This program will be followed until the men get over the effects of the vaccinations.

The men were expecting many visitors this afternoon when Senator James E. Watson was scheduled to speak. The gates were thrown open to the public at three-thirty o'clock. Senator Watson was to address the men at 4:50 o'clock.

For dinner today the men were given a treat in the way of pies. The pies were donated by the members of James E. Watson's Sunday school class and were greatly enjoyed by the men as pastry is a luxury at the camp.

The work of examining the men started yesterday afternoon. All but fifty men were vaccinated by nine o'clock last night. As is usually the case several of the men fainted. This is one of the conditions that usually comes with the vaccination of the men.

The men stand many hard sights without flinching but when it comes to vaccinations there are some that always faint. It is no disgrace, however, as the army officers say they never vaccinated a company but that some of the men fainted.

Donald Pease was one of the men who fainted. Pease fared a little worse than most of them. He fell forward on his face, resulting in knocking out two front teeth.

The examining officers were highly elated over the way the company came through the physical examinations. So far the company has not lost a single man through the federal tests.

Company officers and men alike see an early trip south since vaccinations are complete. They believe the government is getting ready to send them somewhere or else there would be no rush to vaccinate the men. The next thing on the program will be a "shot" of typhoid serum for the men. When this will be administered has not been determined.

CAR HITS COW; DERAILED

The west bound freight car on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction line struck a cow near Glenwood this morning causing the car to leave the rails. No one was injured and traffic was delayed for about two hours. The car was not running very fast, but went for a distance of several feet down the right-of-way after leaving the rails.

WILL ASK ANOTHER ISSUE

Secretary McAdoo Will Seek Bonds
Running Into Millions

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—Secretary of the treasury McAdoo will ask for an additional bond issue at this session of congress, it was learned today following a conference held with house leaders. The issue will run into billions, it is understood.

WAR INSURANCE BILL INTRODUCED

Represents America's First Attempt
To Be Forehanded in Providing
For Wrecked Homes

INSURANCE AT $8 A THOUSAND

For Separation Support Provides
$15 Shall go to Wife and $32.50
More if Two Children

By GEORGE R. MARTIN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—Bearing the president's stamp of approval and Secretary McAdoo's plea that it be made a law in justice to America's fighting men and their families, the long expected war compensation, indemnity and insurance bill was introduced in both houses of congress today.

It represents America's first attempt to be forehanded in providing for those whose homes are wrecked by the war.

The bill's outstanding feature is authorization of insurance for every fighting man at $8 a year per $1,000 worth, up to $10,000.

It will cost the government $556,000,000 the first two years.

The $10,000 worth of insurance for $80 a year is compared with standard rates of about $302 a year for $10,000 for a man of 27.

If a man fail to make application for insurance and is killed, the government presumes him to have made application for a $5,000 policy and pays his widow or his estate that amount.

For separation support of dependents the bill provides that $15 of the enlisted man's $33 a month goes to his wife. The government, if there are two children, gives the wife $32.50 a month in addition, making the minimum account, $47.50. Five dollars additional a month is given for each additional child.

If he wishes the man's father or mother is his dependents he is given $5 a month for that, and the government gives $10. Thus a private with a wife, three children and a mother dependants, can by giving $20 or his $33 get $47.50 from the government, making $67.50 for his dependents.

If total disability results from injuries or disease compensation insurance for a minimum of $40 a month to a maximum of $75 a month for enlisted men and up to $200 a month for higher officers is provided.

If a man loses both legs and arms in battle, he would receive $40 a month or if he needed a nurse $20 of his $33 get $47.50 from the mother he gets $10 more.

If a man dies his expenses not to exceed $100 will be paid. If he leaves his wife, two children and his mother, they got $60 a month in addition to the $5,000 or $10,000 insurance he may carry at $8 per $1,000.

LAMBERT UNABLE TO RETURN

Word has been received that Dr. D. Ira Lambert, who was in an automobile accident at Columbus, O., last Saturday, will be unable to return home for several days. Consequently there will be no preaching services next Sunday morning or the next Sunday. Sunday school will be held as usual Sunday, however.

MAKE A PLEA FOR A COUNTY AGENT

Resolutions Adopted at Teachers
Institute Also Urge Medical
Inspection

CLOSING SESSIONS TODAY

Pinging Declarations of Patriotism
Included—Final Lectures Are Heard

Ringier declarations of patriotism as well as a plea for medical inspection in the Rush county schools and a county agricultural agent were included in the resolutions adopted at the closing session of the Rush county teachers institute just before noon today. The resolutions also urged the appointment of a supervisor of writing to obtain a more uniform penmanship in the schools.

The teachers institute was one of the most successful and instructive held in many years. Preceding the business session which marked the end of the annual meeting two lectures by Dr. Francis H. Green and one by Dr. C. C. Ellis were heard.

The resolutions urged that the policy of the schools shall be "to serve our country most effectively in this time of need and that in doing so we shall not fail in the great task of preparing the boys and girls for citizenship." Tribute was paid to the teachers who volunteered for immediate service for their country as well as to those who will be called out by the selective draft. The speakers, county superintendent and A. M. Taylor, leader of the music, were all complimented. One section expressed regret at the death of Miss Pauline Brown, who was a teacher at Carthage and who died Wednesday.

The members of the resolutions committee were Miss Belle Gregg of this city, W. E. Wagoner of Milroy and Superintendent Eugene Butler of Carthage.

Dr. Green's first lecture was about Charles Dickens and the second was what Dr. Green chose to call his examination hour, the final period. At that time he put five questions to the teachers and said he would leave them with the teachers and their consciences to answer.

He showed the great opportunities a teacher has to get close to his or her children and unfold their lives. He wanted to know if the teachers were about their business, if they were getting at the essential things. One of the biggest things a teacher can do, the lecturer said, is to teach how to master English and a love of good literature.

"Here is the chance for every lover of good poetry," he continued, "to inculcate that love in their pupils. You should encourage the reading of it as well as the writing of rhymes."

The next to the last point he made was for the teacher to set a good example for his or her pupils. He said the life would tell eventually in the conduct of the pupils they teach. He declared all teachers needed to catch the spirit of the Great Teacher.

The last question was whether the teacher was happy in the work.

"I will leave it to your own consciences to make your marks," he declared. "Shall not our objective be to enrich the life of our children and thus enrich our own? God expects everyone of us to do his or her duty and I am sure we are not if we are not happy in the work."

The resolutions follow:
Your program committee submits the following resolutions for your approval:

Be it resolved:
1. That we extend a vote of hearty appreciation to Dr. Francis H. Green, Miss Nancy Blair Barr, and Dr. C. C. Ellis for their inspiring and helpful addresses to us.

"War Sunday" will be observed at the chautauqua Sunday, the closing day of the assembly when Senator James E. Watson and Private Harold R. Peat, a member of the Canadian army who saw service in the trenches, and his wife, will speak. An afternoon postlude and an evening concert will be given by the Chicago Operatic company, which comes tomorrow for three performances.

The chautauqua officials have invited Company B and the sanitary detachment to attend the program Sunday afternoon in a body and they have consented. A special section of seats will be reserved for them so that the boys in khaki will lend an atmosphere to the gathering that will be impressive. Senator Watson will discuss the war and either Private Peat or his wife will speak in the afternoon. As soon as they reach here, the program committee expects to make arrangements for one of them to talk in the afternoon and the other at night preceding the concert.

Two programs brimful of information and entertainment held the attention of two large audiences yesterday. The Boston Symphony Sextette, which was most heartily received, closed its engagement here with a postlude last night and today the Hruby Bohemian orchestra arrived for two entertainments. The lectures yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout of Illinois and Dr. Francis H. Green, institute lecturer were very entertaining and the showing of moving pictures of Sir Douglas Mawson's $300,000 expedition to the Antarctic region attracted a large crowd.

Chautauqua officials anticipated a large crowd tonight because the program will be provided by the Bohemian orchestra, which has a reputation in Rushville for providing first class music. The orchestra has appeared at the chautauqua here before. The program this afternoon consisted of an address by Dr. Arthur W. Evans, nephew of David Lloyd-George; an address by Dr. J. C. Beavers of Purdue university on wheat improvement and a postlude by the orchestra.

The prizes will be awarded in the flower contest conducted by the Rushville Womens Council tomorrow afternoon. This is always an event of great importance to the children. There will be no program Saturday night.

IS BEING TAUGHT FRENCH LANGUAGE

Wilbur Snodgrass, Son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Snodgrass, Thinks he Will be Sent to France.

IS STATIONED AT FORT BLISS

Is a Member of United States Signal Corps—Tells of Training Being Given.

Wilbur Snodgrass, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Snodgrass of this city, who is in the signal corps and stationed at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Tex., writes interestingly of the life at the fort in a letter received today. Young Snodgrass says part of his work consists of a lesson each day in French and believes he will soon be enroute to that country. The letter in part follows:

As I have a few minutes to spare I will write and tell you the latest down here. We went out to target practice last Tuesday with the big 4.7 guns. We went out full pack, just as we will go after the Germans when we get after them, and we marched about five miles out over the desert through sand and cactus. The wheels of the guns sank into the sand about 18 inches, but we went, believe me, part of the time at a gallop and we made the sand fly.

The guns slipped and slid all over the hills. You know there are some good hills (sand dunes) out in the desert, and we went over them some. Our target was three miles away and we could not see it but our gunners cut it clear in two. Do you know what I mean by full pack?

Well my full pack takes in my blanket roll, that is made up of one blanket, one shelter-half, one tent pole, 5 aluminum tent pins, slicker, saddle bags with one feed bag, one grooming kit, etc., in one bag; a tooth brush, soap, comb, towel, one pair of socks, one suit of underwear in the other. All that stuff fastens on my saddle. And I carry one service telephone and buzzer, one flag kit with wig-wag and semaphore flags in it. One pair of $85 field glasses, one 1/2-mile reel of wire, one megaphone on my back and one automatic with holster and ammunition belt, full of ammunition.

Then Wednesday night we had a call to arms at 2 o'clock in the morning and we had to get all this junk together and saddle up in the dark. Some life, believe me. You should have seen them pile out. It took eleven minutes for the battery to get all of its equipment together and the horses hitched up to the guns, ready to get out and fight. You know this was all done in the dark and you scarcely heard a whisper. And Sunday night fire call blew at 11:52 and we all got out and in the ranks in six minutes, dressed. Then we double timed about a mile to the hay stacks that were on fire. Mexicans did it. You see it was baled hay piled up about fifty feet high and covered about five acres. We sure worked hard all night and all morning. I got my hand burned a little when I picked up a hot bale that was on fire underneath.

HOLD LINES DESPITE AN ATTACK IN FORCE

French Resist Efforts of Germans at Famous "Bon Klus" Corner North of Soissons

BITTER HAND TO HAND FIGHT

(By United Press.) Paris, Aug. 10.—Germany made repeated attacks against the French line at the famous "Bon Klus" corner north of Soissons, the bend in the battle front nearest Paris, early today.

A terrific bombardment over a front of five miles was followed by infantry assaults which were marked by bitter hand to hand fighting. The French killed or captured all Germans who succeeded in reaching their positions and the lines were held despite the heavy attack. Three German battalions took part in the attack.

TO RAISE $50 HERE FOR AN AMBULANCE

Local Corps of Salvation Army Will Try to Reach Its Allotment In One Day

TO PLACE KETTLE ON STREET

Army Proposes to Raise One Million Dollars to Send 25 Ambulances to France

The Salvation Army throughout the United States has started to raise one million dollars for Salvation Army ambulance units to be used in the next twelve months for the work among the troops in France.

The Indiana branch of the Army has been asked to send one ambulance to France and Rushville's quota of the state's allotment is fifty dollars, according to Captain R. Van Egmond.

The Salvation Army workers will place the kettle which is always used at Christmas time, on the streets tomorrow and endeavor to raise the desired amount in one day. It is requested that all checks be made payable to the Salvation Army. Captain Van Egmond says that he is relying on the patriotic spirit of the people of Rush county to give the amount requested of the local corps tomorrow. He states that all money raised for the ambulances will be used in that work exclusively.

Already Colonel William S. Baker has gone to France to take charge of the Salvation Army ambulances, huts and hostels. Captain Van Egmond says. He has succeeded in making arrangements for the opening of the first hutment and hostel to be operated by the Salvation Army in connection with the expeditionary forces from America. The establishment of these two agencies represents an outlay of $17,000.

The Salvation Army ambulance work is the same as the Red Cross only that it is entirely operated by the Salvation Army. Each car sent to France by the Army will bear the name of the state it represents.

21 COAL MINES ARE CLOSED BY STRIKE

9,000 Miners Refuse to Work Unless Paid $1 More on Day—Governors of 4 States to Meet.

SLASH IN PRICES POSSIBLE

(By United Press.) Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10.—Twenty-one coal mines will be closed today as a result of a strike of 9,000 miners, according to an announcement by representatives of Illinois coal operators. The mines affected have a combined output of 100,000 tons a day. The officers said the men were striking for $1 a day increase in wages because of "unfounded publicity given reports of enormous profits by operators."

Several hundred of the miners are already out, according to the officials, and others are expected to go out at once. The mines said to be affected are on the Northwestern, the Chicago and Alton and the Missouri Pacific railroads.

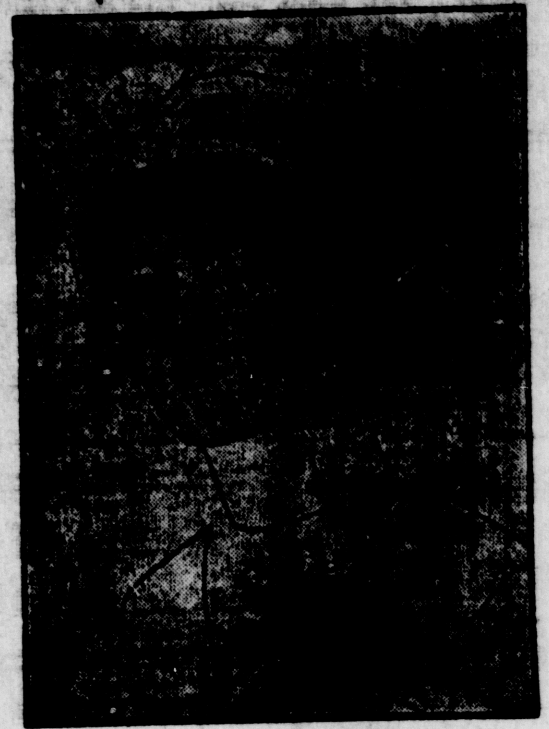

The report of the strike was followed by the announcement that the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois would meet in Chicago either late today or tomorrow for joint action in reducing coal prices.

The operators say a voluntary slash in prices is contemplated.

Harrison got under way today, bringing to a close 13 weeks of intensive, grilling training intended to fit members of the reserve camp for commissions in the new national army. The wind-up ceremonies will conclude next Wednesday when the first training camp closes to make room for a second contingent of reserve officers whose training will start August 27.

All day battle maneuvers and a grand review of all student officers, at the camp by General Glenn and staff was to feature today's workout.

Amusements

The Princess will show Peggy Hyland and Antonio Moreno in "A Rose of the South," for the program tonight. It is a romance of the south during the Civil war and is said to tell a beautiful story. Tomorrow Charles Chaplin will be seen in his latest comedy, "The Immigrant."

With the beautiful emotional actress, Anna Little, in the part of, "Bobbie," and the popular leading man, Frank Borzage, in the role of "The Stranger," the five act production of Kenneth B. Clark's unusual drama, "The Land O' Lizards," should prove a fine attraction at the Gem tonight. It is a powerful drama of the western plains. Tomorrow Shorty Hamilton will be seen in the comedy, "Shorty Lays a Jungle Ghost."

700 BUSHELS OFF 20 ACRES

Many persons have been contemplating Frank Sample on a field of wheat he had on his farm north of Rushville. They were good judges of wheat evidently, because it was learned today that particular field, which contained twenty acres, yielded seven hundred bushels, an average of thirty-five bushels to the acre.

FAMOUS DUTCH ARTIST IN U. S.

Louis Raemaeker, Cartoonist, Whose Head Was Sought by Kaiser to Help

HAD HARD TIME GETTING HERE

Says Germany is Planning Now For Sympathy Following War—Here For Indefinite Stay

(By United Press.)

New York, August 10.—Louis Raemaeker, Dutch cartoonist on whose head the Kaiser set a price of 12,000 marks, for showing up the Hun in all his frightfulness, is in America and will attempt to rouse Americans to a full sense of the "brutal Boche," driving home his argument with his powerful cartoons.

Raemaeker arrived at an American port recently after playing hide and seek with the German spy system at London and evading U-boats whose commanders had orders to "get" him.

When seen at the Vanderbilt hotel he laughingly told how he evaded the Germans who were intent on preventing him reaching America.

He remained in London for several days then jumped over to France, where he apparently sailed on at least a dozen vessels bound for the United States. He would board a vessel at night. The German spies, "seeing him go aboard would feel satisfied they had him cornered but early the next morning or a few minutes before the ship sailed Raemaeker would quietly slip ashore and embark on another vessel. In this way he managed to keep the spies on a wild goose chase and eventually sailed unobserved.

Raemaeker told the United Press how Germany and "kultur" blighted Europe. "If the Kaiser tried to stop the war today I believe the people would depose him," he declared. "They abused him before the war for not starting one when he alone knew Germany was not quite prepared. Blood and iron are drilled into the German people from childhood. And now by a system of atrocities they are trying to bring about the moral and physical collapse of their opponents to make war so cruel that it will be shortened.

Raemaeker became furious as he discussed Germany. His blue eyes seemed to flash fire. He paced the floor, emphasizing his argument by pounding his fists on tables and chairs. "Germans do not talk about the atrocities committed by their men," he said. "They are too terrible. Yet they are right now planning organized sympathy, for after the war." "My idea is to conduct a trial after the war. A just trial where everyman's guilt will be tried, just like any criminal. Let no spirit of revenge prevail, but mete out to every man the punishment he deserves for the part he

In Vacation Land

Every year many thousands more people are carrying "A. B. A." Cheques as "vacation money" because these Cheques relieve the traveler from worry about the care of funds.

Hotels, steamship and railroad companies, merchants and business houses everywhere accept these Cheques readily in payment of bills or purchases, and 50,000 banks cash them without charge.

The only identification needed is the countersignature of the owner on each Cheque in the presence of the person accepting it.

"A. B. A." Cheques are safe, because they can be used only by the original purchaser and if lost or stolen may be replaced.

French Military Authorities Have Documentary Evidence Against Germany's Youngest Classes

DIARY FOUND ON PRISONERS

Participated in Destroying French Villages—Went Five Days Without Bread

(By United Press.)

With The French Armies, July 15 (By Mail)—Documentary evidence has just been secured by the French military authorities establishing that Germany's youngest classes of 19 and 20-year-old troops participated in the pillaging and destroying of French villages that preceded the German retreat of last March.

The following diary found on a German prisoner of the class of 1917 illustrates the mental attitude of these German boy soldiers towards the "military necessity" of sacking and ruining villages and private property.

"The German spy system is more perfect than their army. Every man is a potential spy."

Asked if he did not feel apprehensive for his personal safety Raemaeker shrugged his shoulders. "I am armed," he replied. "Again, if they murder me it will only accentuate, only spread what I am trying to teach.

Raemaeker is in America for an indefinite stay and his drawings, of the style that caused the Kaiser to place a price on his head will shortly appear in American newspapers and magazines.

Dec. 7—Towards evening, pillage excursion to nearby village.

Dec. 20—Preparatory inspection by Captain Otto. During afternoon "sneaked" different sorts of colors, oils and pinchers. Carried away as souvenirs several beautiful cups.

Dec. 23—Painted signs. Pillaging excursion.

Dec. 24—Forenoon, still more pillaging. Carried away all sorts of colors, also wine. Afternoon, Christmas feast. We were given some small presents. Sent four packages, one containing Christmas souvenirs, two containing a cup and glass each (all pillaged) and the third a little teapot. The lieutenant made us a beautiful discourse.

Jan. 14—Afternoon at Chauny. There is mighty little left there.

Feb. 21—We have received orders to destroy all wagons and vehicles that remain at Grandru; to render them useless by sawing them. We destroyed ten.

Feb. 22—All of the beds, springs and mattresses have been gathered together at Appilly to be sent into Germany.

March 6—Worked at an artillery position in the vicinity of Sinceny. Sinceny is in ruins. The villages, including Chauny, are all in flames. All of the fruit trees have been sawn down.

March 12—Worked on the roads. Nearly all of the houses of Bichancourt, including the tower of the church, have been blown up by a mine.

March 17—At 8:30 we departed from Fressancourt for Mortiers via Versigny. We arrived at Mortiers at 4:30. No cantonment especially. It is now five days since we have received bread.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Hubert Ruble of Williamstown and Ella Lairison of near Clarkburg.

Come In and Look Over The McCormick Corn Binder

YOUR corn is a valuable crop nowadays. You need all of it, can't afford to waste any, and must use the most economical way to harvest it.

Of course hand cutting is very slow hard work, at a time when help is hardest to get. If the corn is down and tangled, with many short stalks, it is still much slower and more wasteful.

The McCormick corn binder is a wonder for the corn grower. It saves the hardest kind of labor and much time, gathers all your corn — short, long, down, tangled — into neat, easily-handled bundles. It is easy on the horses, convenient for the driver.

The more careful a buyer you are, the surer you are of buying a McCormick. Come in and see it.

Crop Worker to Come Last

The provost marshal at Washington has issued a statement printed in the Official Bulletin which may defer the drawing of farmers into the new army. He calls attention to the regulations regarding the draft which provide that certificates of discharge on ground of industrial necessity may be temporary may be used. He says it may be imperative necessary for men whose services are required in gathering the fall crops. Continuing he says:

Its termination will vary in the various regions and for the different crops, but can hardly continue beyond the third or fourth week of September, even in the most northerly latitudes.

Under supplementary regulations soon to be issued covering the procedure of mobilization into cantonments and carrying out the announcement of Presidential Regulations, section 48, last paragraph, the notice to persons accepted for service will not specify a fixed date for individuals to report for duty, but will leave this date to be later fixed. The Adjutant General will notify each local board to summon, say 20 per cent of its quota for a certain date, and so on. Each local board will select the individuals who shall form the successive contingents thus to be called.

The local board will have received from the district board a list of the men who have presented claims for temporary discharge on the ground

NOTICE

Of Proposed Tax Levies in Richland Township for the Year 1917.

The Trustee of Richland Township, Rush county, proposes for the yearly expenditures and tax levies by the Advisory Board at its annual meeting, to be held at the office of the trustee, on the 4th day of September, 1917, commencing at one o'clock p. m., the following estimates and amounts for said year:
Township expenditures, $852.81, and township tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars.
Local Tuition expenditures, $3,323.43, and tax 20 cents on the hundred dollars.
Special School Tax expenditures, $6,062.75, and tax, 40 cents on the hundred dollars.
Road Tax expenditures, $1,138.40, and tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars.
Additional Road Tax expenditures, $1,000, and tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars.
Total expenditures, $12,377.39, and total tax, 90 cents on the hundred dollars.
Net taxable property of township, $1,177,960, Aug. 10, 1917. E. A. FATHING, Trustee, Aug 10-11 of necessity to gather crops. Certificates of discharge will not have been issued in such case; but the local board, on examining the papers concerning such claims, will be enabled, if it deems fit, to class those individuals in the contingent to be summoned at one of the later dates fixed by The Adjutant General.

Thus the temporary need of leaving these men at the crop work will be satisfied without complicating or diminishing the quota accounts by carrying those men as discharged temporarily.

For this reason it is recommended that certificates of temporary discharge be not given on the ground of crop work, unless in exceptional cases.

District boards, however, are instructed to list the persons claiming temporary discharge on the above ground, and to certify them to the respective local boards with a note showing the above claim to have been made and disallowed, so that the local board will thus be supplied with the information needed by them in postponing such men to later calls in the manner above described.

Women's Work

Every woman in Rush county will be asked to sign a pledge card in the Hoover food conservation movement, which is the part of a state wide movement. The State Council of Defense says a Hoover food card for every woman and little woman over twelve years of age has been obtained for signature before next Wednesday.

Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana volunteer representative of Herbert C. Hoover, national food administrator has received one million cards for use in the state. The cards will be pro rated according to population. They will be distributed through the women members of the county councils of defense.

Dr. Barnard is well pleased with the responses that have been received by his agents, who have visited every section of the state, preliminary to securing enrollments in the Hoover food conservation movement. He anticipates no great difficulty in securing a 100 percent registration.

The Hoover pledge cards when signed are to be returned to the food administrator, in Washington. The signing of the card binds the housewife to no obligation other than to abide by the suggestions that will be sent out from time to time by Mr. Hoover and his aides. There is no cost after the postage has been affixed to the card—1 cent. The suggestions from Mr. Hoover will be absolutely free. They will contain practical plans for saving food stuffs without depriving the family of sufficient wholesome, nourishing, palatable food. They will bring into an effective working organization the most resourceful food conservation agency on earth—the American housewife. The result will be, if the women of the nation, many of whom have almost exhausted their own resources in combating the high cost of living, will abide by the Hoover data, that a new era of economy will have been inaugurated which must have a far reaching effect. The most important accomplishment, of course, will be a guarantee of sufficient food for the American soldiers and for our allies in the war against Germany.

The housewife has every thing to gain in the Hoover enterprise she can't spend more than one cent necessary for postage, and she will have become a highly efficient volunteer in the greatest emergency her country has ever faced.

Certainly the American people are not slipping. Conservative estimates of statistics gathered from all parts of the country indicate that less than twenty-five per cent of the registrants being examined for the new national army have failed to pass because of physical unfitness. Records show that the average per cent during the civil war was twenty-six per cent.

Secretary Redfield urges "No more tin cans, except for food." Now if the Department of Agriculture will issue a bulletin giving 100 ways to cook tin cans.

It's not what we know that makes fools of all of us, but what we do not know.

Will Die of Texas drew 1313 in the draft lottery. Surely, Luke Mc-Luke has not heard of this yet.

Current Comments "Sammy's" Won't Stick (Muncie Press)

The word "Sammy" which the press associations have been trying to hang on to the American soldier, will not stick. It is a belittling diminutive—a poor imitation of the British term "Tommy," which itself never would have originated at a time like this. In the rural parts of England the word "Sammy" is used as a nickname for a half-wit, and the American equivalent is a "nut." The American soldiers at the front are refusing to accept the name. They prefer the term used by the French, "Teddies," which at least has some fighting significance. But no diminutive is appropriate in describing an American soldier now. Call him a soldier and let it go at that.

"Attaboy," the slogan much used by American troops headed for France, is of American origin. It is a piece of baseball slang, used in coaching, and means "That's the boy." The use of the word has originated with the men themselves. Nicknames and slang generally must originate spontaneously in order to become a part of the language of the people. No one knows what starts or stops slang. Like Topsy, it "just grows."

Fort Wayne, August 7—One piece uniforms for women workers have been adopted by the Pennsylvania railroad which is employing many women in its local shops. The uniform consists of a suit bifurcated to the knees, and fastened with buttons or buckles at the ankles. Pennsylvania officials are planning an employment of women here when the labor shortage becomes acute as a result of the draft. The women will be paid the same wages as the men for the same class of work. They will be used extensively in the distribution of materials, cleaning cars, and in machine shops and roundhouses.

were depicted in the showing of moving pictures of Sir Douglas Mawson's expedition last night. The lecturer with the pictures explained that the expedition sailed 30,000 miles, was gone 27 months and followed the coast line of a continent 11,000 long.

The pictures revealed the hardships which the expedition composed of sixty-six men, underwent in an effort to discover new things in the scientific world. Two men lost their lives on the expedition and Sir Douglas Mawson himself barely escaped after undergoing untold hardships when left alone 110 miles from the expedition's base.

Of especial interest were the reels showing the animal life of the region. The antics of the penguins were amusing. This animal is entirely different from any of any other region. They are perfectly tame and yielded to the entreaties of the explorers to "make up." Pictures of seals, water elephants and of the many species of birds were also shown.

The terrible velocity of the wind could be plainly seen in the moving pictures. Men stood on high peaks and literally "leaned against" the wind and it was strong enough to overcome the forces of gravity. Records of the expedition disclose the average velocity of the wind was 50 miles an hour every day the expedition was out. Icebergs towering 200 feet above the water were shown and the hardships that were encountered both on land and sea were made plain by the excellent pictures.

Allied Secret Service Run Down
German Submarine Intelligence

MESSAGES SENT IN CODE

Movements of Ships Were Sent Out,
Probably by Wireless—One Man Arrested

By ARTHUR E. MANN
Stockholm, July 11 (By Mail).— Allied secret service and intelligence officers, with the co-operation of the police of the Scandinavian countries, have recently succeeded in unearthing and dispersing a large and well organized German submarine intelligence office headquarters in Gothenburg, Sweden.

In their investigations the officers discovered a naval intelligence map of the waters surrounding the British Isles and the North Sea. The water area on the map was divided into small squares, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

Messages based on this code, although apparently reading like private merchantile telegrams and cablegrams, could in reality be deciphered into accurate descriptions of Allied warships or of belligerent or neutral merchantmen.

From the spy headquarters in Gothenburg, agents were sent to Scandinavian ports and attempts were made, whether successful or not, to get them into England. These agents were supplied with the code and map mentioned and were reporting to headquarters on the sailings of merchantmen. It is supposed that in some way the headquarters in Gothenburg communicated the information to German submarines at sea, probably by wireless stations hidden along the coast.

One of the chief branches of the Gothenburg office was in Christiania and a Norwegian was actually engaged there to go to England on the espionage service, being supplied with the code and map in addition a process of invisible ink writing for mail reports. Another branch was in Malmo, Sweden. It is believed that many of the agents of the German spies in Gothenburg were Scandinavians. At about the same time of the discovery of the Gothenburg office, a German giving the name of Klein was arrested in Sweden, charged with a plot to murder British Ambassador Buchanan in Petrograd. Klein was afterward released but deported from Sweden.

tures twice each morning before the teachers institute, gave his only lecture before the chautauqua yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. He amused and entertained the audience with good stories and anecdotes.

Dr. Green said he was going to talk about, "The Six Great Cities." He declared that he would not speak of New York, Chicago, Boston, Paris, London or any of the other wonderful cities of the world, and the audience was beginning to wonder just what he considered the greatest cities in the world. As he mentioned each city which he was going to talk about, Dr. Green made some facetious observation that convulsed the audience. For instance, he said he thought it very appropriate that there should be a river at one end and a cemetery at the other end of Wall Street.

But finally the crowd was let in on the secret. Dr. Green meant all the time by his reference to "The Six Great Cities," the words, "Simplicity, Capacity, Vivacity, Tenacity, Veracity, Felicity." When he had concluded, the audience was of the belief that Dr. Green had said more in his allotted time and had more real worth while thoughts than any lecturer who has been at the assembly this year.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, called attention in her lecture yesterday afternoon to the fact that nearly all nations at war had given their women suffrage since the war began because they had come to realize the value of women for the part they had taken in the conflict.

She pointed out that the Illinois suffrage law was like Indiana's—

Will Enter Army With Rank of Sergeant—Handy Also For Department of Justice

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 10.—Expert interpreters by the hundreds will soon be needed to carry on the business of Uncle Sam's new national army abroad.

Complete courses in military interpretation of foreign languages, approved by Secretary Baker and the war college, are being offered for the summer at Columbia University, where linguists of every variety will be turned out for home and field service during the war. They will enter the army with the rank of sergeant.

First class interpreters, the War Department has found, are a hard class to muster into the service in large numbers. An applicant for the preliminary training course must be able to fluently speak and be able to read either French or German. His business will not be merely to translate military documents and letters. He must converse intelligently and aid officers with only a knowledge of English in carrying on that part of their business which must be done in foreign countries.

Before receiving appointment to the service the applicant must pass the regular army physical examination—almost as big a job as learning a couple of languages. He must also prove American birth and loyalty to the cause of the United States. His family tree is thoroughly probed in a search for flaws. The thoroughly trained interpreter is immediately assigned to duty, for the government is at present shy of linguists. If he completes the course before the national army needs him, he may be assigned to duty in the camp where thousands of aliens are temporarily interned, or to the Department of Justice investigation service.

that it granted women only part suffrage and that it was next to impossible to amend the state constitution to get full suffrage. She declared that when God gave Adam and Eve dominion over the world, it was not granted to Adam alone but to both of them.

Mrs. Trout recalled that the arguments now being used against granting women the ballot were the same as those used against suffrage for all classes of men many years ago. She pointed out that first only kings had the right of suffrage and then it was gradually granted to men by degrees. She recalled that it was not many years that English farmers had been voting. Mrs. Trout lamented the fact that the women of Iceland and Denmark could vote and the majority of the women of the United States could not.

It was with great regret that the audience parted with the Boston Symphony Sextette last night. The Sextette played, "My Rosary," and the Second Hungarian Rhapsody last night and yesterday afternoon the favorites were the sextette from "Lucia" and selections from the light opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

Prof. E. P. Trueblood of Earlham college spoke last night and President Millis of Hanover college spoke in the afternoon concerning the Boys Working Reserve which the State Council of Defense is organizing for the purpose of meeting the labor shortage. The speakers urged the boys under military age enroll with the county organizer, C. M. George, who was appointed by the County Council of Defense. Little is expected to be accomplished by the movement this year, but it will be organized for next summer.

Dr. George R. Gross, president of DePauw university will lecture tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. He is making a tour of the state under the auspices of the State Council of Defense.

GERMAN PLANES
ARE DEFECTIVE

Aircraft Built in A Hurry, There Should Be A Warning To United States

NOT ENOUGH PRECAUTION

In One Week Seven German Planes
Were Seen To Break In The Air
And Hurl To Earth

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS—
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, July 10 (By Mail)—There's a lesson to the United States not to make haste too precipitately, in recent air battles here. The structural defects of the German aircraft have been strongly illustrated of late. They were machines hurriedly built as a result of Germany's "speeding up" of aeroplane construction. Now that America is going to hustle up and build great fleets of such craft she will do well to note some of the results of too much speed and not enough precaution.

In one week recently seven German planes were seen literally to break up in the air, the pilots and observers being hurled to the earth below. These accidents were unmistakably the result of faulty construction. Two other Prussian bi-planes suddenly burst into flames in the view of British fighters—for no accountable reason.

Moreover, the new German planes are exceedingly vulnerable, probably due to faulty material and rush work. One British lieutenant the other day fired 40 rounds at 25 yards range—and broke the German's wing's clear off. Another British fighter turned his machinegun fire at the tail of one of fifteen Prussian machines, from a distance of 60 yards. The Zoche's tail slid clear off and the machine crashed to earth.

On the same day as this last incident, five British flyers attacked a fleet of Albatross scouts among the clouds. The fighters got separated shortly in the fleecy clouds and then it was every man for himself. One British captain, after driving off 3 Germans, hid in a cloud and awaited the fourth, whom he saw approaching. At the correct moment, the Britisher dived out, got below his enemy, and fired 58 shots. He broke the German plane completely in two.

On the following day a British fighter, battling with nine planes, broke one into several pieces with a few shots, and then saw two other of his enemies burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless machine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames, one was crumpled by gunfire, and another just simply collapsed after 18 rounds of fire.

The moral is that Americans will need the best machines and their best men against the Germans. Even then it would be foolhardy to expect a walkover.

MAKE A PLEA FOR A COUNTY AGENT

2. That we compliment our County Supt. C. M. George on the excellent management of this session.

3. That we congratulate the Chautauqua Association for the splendid program of the week and thank it for the many favors and courtesies shown us.

4. That we thank Mr. A. M. Taylor for the interest, enthusiasm and good music that he invariably secures when he conducts the singing in our institutes, that we gladly and cordially welcome him back to the teaching force of our county. Mr. Taylor's happy disposition, great efficiency as teacher, leader, friend commands the respect and esteem of all who know him and we as teachers gladly open our ranks to receive him.

5. That we regret sincerely the recent death of Miss Pauline Brown who by her lovable nature and exceptional ability as a teacher caused her to be greatly appreciated both as teacher and friend. We feel that in her death the teaching profession has lost a worthy and loyal advocate, and the community an exemplary member.

6. That we urge the appointment of a supervisor of writing for the purpose of securing more efficient and uniform penmanship in the schools of our county.

7. That we most earnestly petition our school officials to provide complete medical inspection for our schools.

8. That we heartily endorse the advances made in other localities in the employment of county agricultural agents and Domestic Science and Economy supervisors, and that we favor the employment of such experts for Rush County who shall direct the Agricultural and Domestic Science work and co-operate with the local supervisors and teachers of these courses.

9. That since there are some of our teachers who have volunteered their immediate services for our country and since there are several others of our teachers whose services will be called for through the selective draft laws now in effect be it resolved that their work among us shall not have been in vain and be it furthermore resolved that the policy of our schools shall be to serve our country most effectively in this time of need and that in doing so we shall not fail in our great task of preparing the boys and girls for citizenship and for service to society, state and nation in the future.

SCIENTIFIC USE OF FOOD URGED

Dr. Barnard Says Human Body is Like Machine, Some Requiring More Fuel Than Others

DESIGNATES THE CLASSES

Suggests That Foods be Selected With View of Obtaining Number of Calories Necessary

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana's food director, today urged scientific eating for every resident of the state, as a valuable aid in the nation's "win the war" food campaign.

He said:

"The scientist looks at the human body through the same glasses through which he views an automobile. He knows that it takes a certain amount of fuel to run the human engine just as it does the engine made in the machine shop from iron and steel. He also knows that the amount of fuel required depends altogether upon the amount of work to be done. A racing automobile burns large quantities of gas and much oil. A man hard at work likewise needs much fuel.

"We measure fuel values in calories just as we measure weight by the pound. A calorie means the amount of energy that a given food contains. It is easy to calculate how much energy a man at vigorous, muscular work requires to keep him going from morning until night. It is also easy to analyze the food he eats to determine how much energy it contains in the form of fat and protein and sugar and starches. We have then a simple system of measurement which once understood can be used in the preparation of every meal and in serving food to every member of the household.

"The food experts have measured the daily energy requirement for each pound of body weight. The following table shows that number of calories one must take in his food to meet the needs of the body.

Daily energy requirement for each pound of body weight.
For a person at complete rest, 14 to 16 calories; For a person doing light work, 16 to 28 calories; For a person doing moderate work, 18 to 20 calories; For a person doing hard work, 20 to 23 calories.

"Complete rest includes reading, resting and sitting at meals.

"Light work consists of walking, standing at one's work, as in cook-

DECORATED FOR RECOVERING BODY

Under Protection of Machine Guns He Dragged Comrade Back to French Lines

AWARDED LEGION OF HONOR

Was in Full View of the Enemy But They Dared Not Come Out to Fight Him

By HENRY WOOD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the French Armies, July 10 (By Mail) —Captain Garandeau, who began the present war as a sergeant, has been awarded the Legion of Honor for recovering under most exceptional circumstances the body of a French officer killed just in front of the German trenches.

While French machinegun operators, hundreds of yards behind the French lines, executed a barrage fire of protection over the dead body, Garandeau in full daylight and under the eyes of both the French and the Germans, crept face downward to the spot, and attaching the body to his leg with a rope, successfully dragged it back into the French lines.

ing, dish washing, or bed making, hand and machine sewing, type writing and the like.

"Moderate work not only involves a good many muscles but also causes enough strain to harden and enlarge them. Outdoor farm work, housecleaning, and heavy sweeping are included under this heading. Lumbering, excavating and certain farm activities constitute even heavier work than this.

"In order to determine the amount of food one should eat to keep in good condition is only necessary to multiply the body weight by the number of calories suggested as sufficient for a person at the different kinds of work shown in the table and then to select the foods and the amounts of each which will supply the demand."

The dead officer, Lieutenant Seve by name, together with his orderly named Ollmo, had been killed during a night raid on the German trenches. Immediately afterwards another party had left the French trenches for the purpose of bringing back the two bodies, but after searching all night in vain, came back in the morning empty handed.

During the course of the forenoon the French finally succeeded in locating with strong field glasses the bodies lying in the tall grass just in front of a German trench and where any effort to recover them would be in full view of the enemy.

As it was certain that if the bodies were left there till night, the Germans would be able to ambush anyone who sought to recover them, Captain Garandeau, who barely knew the dead officer personally volunteered to bring back the body in full daylight. The only possible protection that could be offered him was for the French machinegun operators to keep the dead bodies constantly covered with a barrage fire so that at least the Germans would not be able to creep out of their trenches and engage a hand-to-hand fight with the rescuer.

Accompanied by a soldier named Verdier who also volunteered for the task, Garandeau left the French trenches being obliged to cut his way through the French barbed-wire entanglements with nippers even before reaching the open space of No-Man's-Land.

By crawling flat on his face and taking advantage of all natural cover Garandeau was able to keep out of the range of the Germans who could neither fire at him or hurl hand grenades without exposing themselves to the deadly machine-gun barrage with which the French were covering his worm-like progress.

Within an hour Garandeau, after reaching the body of Seve and tying it to his leg, had successfully dragged it back into the French line.

Inspired by his exploits volunteers immediately came forward and insisted on being allowed to go after the body of Ollmo in the same manner. Sergeant Crotet and three soldiers were finally granted permission and before 8 in the evening they too returned to the French trenches dragging the body tied to their legs.

Simultaneously with the decoration of Garandeau today with the Legion of Honor, the sergeant and soldiers who participated in the exploit received also the Croix de Guerre.

Men From Naval Training Station
And Student Officers Seek Pleasure There

SPEND MONEY VERY FREELY

One Boy Wanted To Send Telegram
To Mother On Her Birthday And Needed Help

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The "man on leave" is becoming a familiar sight here.

Thousands of students from the officers reserve training corps at Fort Sheridan and "Jackies" from the Great Lakes Naval Training station at Lake Bluffs, are using Chicago for their pleasure jaunts.

A bluejacket ashore is said to be one of the most irresponsible persons as far as finances are concerned, and those at the Great Lakes apparently are no exception to the general rule. They are telling a story out there now of a boy who wished her happiness.

came back bringing with him two fancy waist-coats for which he could have no possible use. Asked what he would do with them he said; "Well, they had sold out of everything else and I don't like to go "ashore" without buying something."

Chicagoans apparently regard the men as personal guests. Newsboys gaze admiringly as the bluejackets pass. Young men stop them and ask questions concerning life in the navy. Young women beg lanyards and other souvenirs from their uniforms. On Sundays and holidays most of the public parks are dotted with strolling bluejackets.

Typical of this kindly feeling, which is manifesting itself here toward those men who are donning uniforms in defense of the nation was a little incident in a Chicago telegraph office, recently. A freckled boy in navy blue with a cowlick caressing his left temple was struggling with a telegram blank and a method of procedure, he was experiencing difficulty when a little wisp of an elderly woman stepped up and said, "Can I help you?" The boy stammeringly said, "Why—why, if you will. You see it's my mother's birthday and I just wanted to send her a telegram telling her I story out there now of a boy who wished her happiness."

To The Men Wishing To Join
Some Branch of Service.

I am still able to accept men for Cavalry Troop E. To the men of conscription age, I especially urge to be examined quickly as the time is short for them. To all men I tender a chance to join the service in one of its most spectacular branches. I am able to recruit anywhere in the state, so your chance to join is getting smaller every day. If interested call me at phone 1115, Rushville, or go to any recruiting officer for I. N. G. and tell him you wish to join Troop E.

URGES THAT TAX LEVY BE REDUCED

State Tax Commissioners Call Attention to 60 Million Added to Taxables This Year

OPEN LETTER TO OFFICIALS

Asks That Where Increase in Valuation Warrants it, That Levies be Cut Down

An open letter to county councils, boards of commissioners, city councils, school boards, advisory boards and library boards has been sent by the state board of tax commissioners calling attention to the fact that almost $60,000,000 has been added to the taxables of the state this year and urging the tax boards which have the power to make tax levies to remember the increase and reduce their levies accordingly.

GETS MARVELOUS SET OF PICTURES

French Aviator Has Hobby For Photographing Every Time He Shoots At Boche Machine

OTHERS NOW TAKING UP IDEA

(By United Press.)

Paris July 25 (By Mail)—Probably the most marvelous collection of war aviation photographs in the world are in possession of Captain Guynemer, the noted French flying champion, who takes a photograph every time he shoots at a Boche airplane.

Attached to the French flyer's machine gun is a camera—a repeating camera. A pull of the trigger on the gun operates the picture machine.

The novel idea for procuring war pictures is believed to be Guynemer's own. But it has proved such a great success that every fighting machine in the Lafayette Escadrille will be likewise equipped. The photos will undoubtedly some day make their appearance in America.

The letter, which was received here this morning follows:

Through vigilance of assessing officers and by reason of enhanced values incident to considerations affecting the country, the taxables of the state have been increased almost $60,000,000 during the present year, and your especial attention is called to this fact at this time so that it may not be lost sight of when you come to make your levies for 1917.

One of the arguments made for a low assessment, even in violation of the law, is that taxing authorities do not take notice of increased values, but on the contrary take advantage of such increases to wring more money from taxpayers because of such increases, and thereby add to the burden of taxation. There should be no basis for such an argument, and the state tax board earnestly hopes that where the increase in values is sufficient to warrant a reduction in levies, that same may be afforded.

The state tax board is solicitous that all taxing officers shall do their whole duty under the statute. This will apply to the fixing of levies, as well as the listing of values. Levies should not be made in excess of the needs of government, economically administered. The ratio of increase of taxables should have a compensation in the ratio of decrease of levies, other conditions remaining the same.

Kindly promulgate the contents of this open letter by calling the attention of the local press to the same, and permitting publishers to make such comments on the subject as local facts warrant—all in the interest of good government.

DISTRICT BOARD MAKES STATEMENT

Exemption Claim on Industrial or Agricultural Grounds Must be Supported by Affidavits

SHOWING THE MAN IS NEEDED

Provost Marshal Urges Local Boards to Reduce Discharges For Dependency to Plain Cases

Postmaster G. P. Hunt received a notice this morning from Miles F. Porter, chairman of the exemption board for this district which sits at Fort Wayne, calling attention to methods of procedure before the board. The board says that the registrant making claim for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds must submit affidavits to prove that the enterprise in which he is engaged is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment.

The provost marshal has issued a statement at Washington, which has been sent to all governors and will be transmitted to the local boards, instructing them to "reduce discharges for dependency to a more restricted class and to very necessities and clearly defined circumstances. Because as high as 80 per cent of the registrants in some districts are filing claims for exemption, the provost marshal believes unfair advantage is being taken of the regulations designed to protect men who properly deserve exemption from service.

Postmaster Hunt received the following from the district board regarding method of procedure:

First: Do not file claims for exemption until you have been certified from the Local Board to the District Board.

Second: Applicants for exemption are not to appear before the board until they have been asked to do so by the board.

Third: Individuals cannot be exempted solely for the reason that they are engaged in any industrial or agricultural enterprise.

Fourth: The individual making claim for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds must submit affidavits to prove that the enterprise in which he is engaged is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or the maintenance of national interest during emergency; that the continuance of such person in said enterprise is necessary to the maintenance of such enterprise and that he cannot be replaced by another person without material loss and detriment to the effective operation of said enterprise.

Fifth: All claims for exemption should be accompanied by affidavits in support of the claim. Those who have sent in claims without such affidavits should immediately supply the board with the affidavits necessary.

The message to the governors from the provost marshal follows:

"Sec. 2 of the selective service law exempts no person for military service on the ground of dependency. It only authorizes the President to exclude or discharge from draft those in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge advisable."

"The controlling necessity is to raise an army. It is advisable to disturb dependents just as little as the necessity of raising an army will permit. To this end Sec. 18 of the regulations was compiled carefully and after the most earnest consideration. If experience is to prove that the generous conditions prescribed by Sec. 18, or any abuse of them, will interfere with the raising of an army, then it is no longer advisable to discharge so wide a class and the conditions stated therein will have to be restricted until an advisable rule is reached."

"Nothing has happened to change the belief that the persons enumerated in Section Eighteen could be discharged without interfering with the raising of an army, but there are indications that abuses of Section Eighteen may render its continuance no longer advisable."

"Reports are to the effect that, in some districts as high as 80 per cent of persons called before local boards are filing claims for discharge on the ground of dependent relatives. Such a percentage of claims when viewed in connection with all available statistics indicates beyond question, that advantage is being taken of the provisions of the law and regulations which were intended to reduce to a minimum the misery at home normally attendant upon war.

"There is a moral certainty, in the extravagance of this percentage, that hundreds of unfounded claims are included in these totals."

"This state of affairs greatly increases the burden of local boards for, if so high a percentage of registrants claim exemption, only the uncompromising action of local boards can prevent a new regulation on the subject of dependency, which shall reduce discharges for dependency to a far more-restricted class and to very necessities and clearly defined circumstances."

"In the absence of a stern repression by local boards of unmeritorious claims this result is inevitable since any such percentage of exemptions as reports of claims indicate would nullify the law and prevent the raising of an army."

"It is thus apparent that the filing of these improper claims will react directly and injuriously on persons whom the present regulations were designed to protect and that the welfare of persons who have filed bona fide claims under the present generous clauses of the regulations is seriously imperiled by persons who have filed claims without merit, and that the only protection of persons whose cases are within the meaning of the present rules lies in the power of local boards to refuse exemption in every doubtful case."

"It is true that cases of discharge on the ground of dependency are appealable to the district board, but this clause is only inserted to secure uniformity of action. District boards are to examine these cases to discover departures from the law, regulations and rulings; and they will not and can not open every case on its merits. It is in the local boards alone, therefore, that the solution of the difficulty and the protection of deserving claimants lies."

Senate Finds Obstruction Immediately in The Form of A Substitute Measure

A FIGHT ON TO TAX COTTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The senate today began its struggle with the $26,097,000 war tax bill.

Its legislative course which promises to be a rocky one, was beset immediately by a substitute measure, drawn by Senators Gore, LaFollette and Thomas, of Colorado, who would raise the entire revenue through incomes and excess profits.

Senator Weeks proposed to equalize war profits so that companies which before the war were not enjoying large profits will not have to pay as heavy a war tax now as those which made huge prewar profits.

Certain wheat states senators will start their fight to tax cotton, in return for what they call virtually a tax on wheat in the food control bill. They would tax cotton on the ground that its use by shell manufacturers make it a munition of war.

TWENTY-THREE NAMES ARE CERTIFIED BY BOARD TODAY

District Board Informed This Number of Men From Rush County Are Ready for Service.

HOW LIST IS FINALLY MADE UP

Local Board Discovers Six Are Credited With Asking Exemptions Who Did Not Do So.

TWO ARE DENIED EXEMPTIONS

Three Men's Claims For Discharge on Grounds of Having Dependents Are Allowed.

Twenty-three names of Rush county young men were certified today by the local selection board to the district board as being ready to serve in the new national army. These twenty-three men were taken from the list of those who filed no claims for exemption and after the board had acted on several claims for exemption.

The board was in session this afternoon when more claims will receive official notice. Due to an error in the records of the board it was stated yesterday that fifteen men filed no claims for exemption. In checking up the list the board found that six men had been given credit for filing claims when as a matter of fact they did not ask exemption. This made a total of twenty-one men who did not ask exemption.

Then today the board refused two claims for exemption and added the two names to the certified list sent the district board and this brought the total of the first day's work of actually selecting men up to twenty-three. All names have been checked and re-checked and the twenty-three names appearing in another column as the first 23 certified by the board absolutely official.

Even with 23 men almost sure of going from this county out of the first 132 called, the work of securing the county's quota of 66 men will not be so difficult. Almost one-third of the number has been secured and there are some more names which will be added to the list as the board finishes passing on the claims for exemption, as it is practically certain that some of the men will be refused exemption.

The first official action of the board shows that Michael Ansberry and Harry E. Clark, both of this city, were refused claims for exemption. Both asked claims because of dependents. Ansberry is a freight conductor on the Big Four railway. It was shown to the satisfaction of the board that he was not the sole support of his mother and the same held true in the case of Clark.

The first three men to get exemptions from military service were Claude Jesse of Carthage, John Ringenberg of Manilla and Crawford A. Shadoan of Carthage. All are day laborers and are the sole supports of their families. The men refused exemptions have the right of appeal to the district board, but it is not likely that the appeal in the two cases passed on today will be taken there on the grounds on which the original claim for exemption was filed.

The board today heard from Edward S. Combs, the one man whose official notification to appear before the board for physical examination came back to the board as being undeliverable by the postal authorities. When Combs registered he gave his address as Covington, Ky. The letter failed to find him there and his mother wrote the board that she believed him in Detroit. Today a postal card was received addressed to the "Mayor of Glenwood." The authorities at Glenwood turned the card over to the local board. It was

PRESIDENT SIGNS FOOD CONTROL BILL

As he Signs Measure Hoover Gets
Evidence of Attempt to Corner
California Tomatoes.

RESULT OF THE FIRST PROBE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The food control bill is now a law. Even as President Wilson affixed his signature this afternoon the federal trade commission placed before Herbert C. Hoover evidence of an alleged attempt to corner the output of California's tomato canning factories.

It was one of the first results of the commission's investigation into food prices. Hope of nearly $10,000,000 excess profits by army contractors, was said to be back of the move to buy up the California output.

Food control throughout the country probably will be ordered late today. Hoover has placed before the president the names of men he desires to be placed at the head of the different state organizations. With the president's approval of these, Hoover will be given full authority to go ahead.

MANY SORE ARMS AT CAMP WOLFE

Vaccinations of Members of Company B Administered Yesterday
Begins to "Take"

FEDERAL TEST IS FINISHED

Men Expect Many Visitors This Afternoon When Senator James E. Watson Speaks At 4:50

Camp Edward H. Wolfe, Aug. 10.—Sore arms were very much in evidence today among the members of Company B, and from all indications there will be many more sore arms tomorrow as the vaccinations administered yesterday and today begin to "take." The work of examining the men under the directions of Lt. Wells was completed by noon today.

As a result of the vaccinations active work was dispensed with and the men were not put through long hard drills. This program will be followed until the men get over the effects of the vaccinations.

The men were expecting many visitors this afternoon when Senator James E. Watson was scheduled to speak. The gates were thrown open to the public at three-thirty o'clock. Senator Watson was to address the men at 4:50 o'clock.

For dinner today the men were given a treat in the way of pies. The pies were donated by the members of James E. Watson's Sunday school class and were greatly enjoyed by the men as pastry is a luxury at the camp.

The work of examining the men started yesterday afternoon. All but fifty men were vaccinated by nine o'clock last night. As is usually the case several of the men fainted. This is one of the conditions that usually comes with the vaccination of the men.

The men stand many hard sights without flinching but when it comes to vaccinations there are some that always faint. It is no disgrace, however, as the army officers say they never vaccinated a company but that some of the men fainted.

Donald Pease was one of the men who fainted. Pease fared a little worse than most of them. He fell forward on his face, resulting in knocking out two front teeth.

The examining officers were highly elated over the way the company came through the physical examinations. So far the company has not lost a single man through the federal tests.

Company officers and men alike see an early trip south since vaccinations are complete. They believe the government is getting ready to send them somewhere or else there would be no rush to vaccinate the men. The next thing on the program will be a "shot" of typhoid serum for the men. When this will be administered has not been determined.

WAR INSURANCE BILL INTRODUCED

Represents America's First Attempt
To Be Forehanded in Providing
For Wrecked Homes

INSURANCE AT $8 A THOUSAND

For Separation Support Provides
$15 Shall go to Wife and $32.50
More if Two Children

By GEORGE R. MARTIN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—Bearing the president's stamp of approval and Secretary McAdoo's plea that it be made a law in justice to America's fighting men and their families, the long expected war compensation, indemnity and insurance bill was introduced in both houses of congress today.

It represents America's first attempt to be forehanded in providing for those whose homes are wrecked by the war.

The bill's outstanding feature is authorization of insurance for every fighting man at $8 a year per $1,000 worth, up $10,000.

It will cost the government $556,000,000 the first two years. The $10,000 worth of insurance for $80 a year is compared with standard rates of about $302 a year for $10,000 for a man of 27.

If a man fail to make application for insurance and is killed, the government presumes him to have made application for a $5,000 policy and pays his widow or his estate that amount.

For separation support of dependents the bill provides that $15 of the enlisted man's $33 a month goes to his wife. The government, if there are two children, gives the wife $32.50 a month in addition, making the minimum account, $47.50. Five dollars additional a month is given for each additional child.

If he wishes the man's father or mother is his dependents he is given $5 a month for that, and the government gives $10. Thus a private with a wife, three children and a mother dependants, can by giving $20 or his $33 get $47.50 from the government, making $67.50 for his dependents.

If total disability results from injuries or disease compensation insurance for a minimum of $40 a month to a maximum of $75 a month for enlisted men and up to $200 a month for higher officers is provided.

If a man loses both legs and arms in battle, he would receive $40 a month or if he needed a nurse $20 of his $33 get $47.50 from the mother he gets $10 more.

If a man dies his expenses not to exceed $100 will be paid. If he leaves his wife, two children and his mother, they get $80 a month in addition to the $5,000 or $10,000 insurance he may carry at $8 per $1,000.

MAKE A PLEA FOR A COUNTY AGENT

Resolutions Adopted at Teachers
Institute Also Urge Medical
Inspection

CLOSING SESSIONS TODAY

Ringings Declarations of Patriotism
Included—Final Lectures Are Heard

Ringings declarations of patriotism as well as a plea for medical inspection in the Rush county schools and a county agricultural agent were included in the resolutions adopted at the closing session of the Rush county teachers institute just before noon today. The resolutions also urged the appointment of a supervisor of writing to obtain a more uniform penmanship in the schools.

The teachers institute was one of the most successful and instructive held in many years. Preceding the business session which marked the end of the annual meeting two lectures by Dr. Francis H. Green and one by Dr. C. C. Ellis were heard.

The resolutions urged that the policy of the schools shall be "to serve our country most effectively in this time of need and that in doing so we shall not fail in the great task of preparing the boys and girls for citizenship." Tribute was paid to the teachers who volunteered for immediate service for their country as well as to those who will be called out by the selective draft. The speakers, county superintendent and A. M. Taylor, leader of the music, were all complimented. One section expressed regret at the death of Miss Pauline Brown, who was a teacher at Carthage and who died Wednesday.

The members of the resolutions committee were Miss Belle Gregg of this city, W. E. Wagoner of Milroy and Superintendent Eugene Butler of Carthage.

Dr. Green's first lecture was about Charles Dickens and the second was what Dr. Green chose to call his examination hour, the final period. At that time he put five questions to the teachers and said he would leave them with the teachers and their consciences to answer.

He showed the great opportunities a teacher has to get close to his or her children and unfold their lives. He wanted to know if the teachers were about their business, if they were getting at the essential things. One of the biggest things a teacher can do, the lecturer said, is to teach how to master English and a love of good literature.

"Here is the chance for every lover of good poetry," he continued, "to inculcate that love in their pupils. You should encourage the reading of it as well as the writing of rhymes."

The next to the last point he made was for the teacher to set a good example for his or her pupils. He said the life would tell eventually in the conduct of the pupils' they teach. He declared all teachers needed to catch the spirit of the Great Teacher.

The last question was whether the teacher was happy in the work.

"I will leave it to your own consciences to make your marks," he declared. "Shall not our objective be to enrich the life of our children and thus enrich our own? God expects everyone of us to do his or her duty and I am sure we are not if we are not happy in the work."

The resolutions follow:
Your program committee submits the following resolutions for your approval:

Be it resolved:
1. That we extend a vote of hearty appreciation to Dr. Francis H. Green, Miss Nancy Blair Barr, and Dr. C. C. Ellis for their inspiring and helpful addresses to us.

"War Sunday" will be observed at the chautauqua Sunday, the closing day of the assembly when Senator James E. Watson and Private Harold R. Peat, a member of the Canadian army who saw service in the trenches, and his wife, will speak. An afternoon postlude and an evening concert will be given by the Chicago Operatic company, which comes tomorrow for three performances.

The chautauqua officials have invited Company B and the sanitary detachment to attend the program Sunday afternoon in a body and they have consented. A special section of seats will be reserved for them so that the boys in khaki will lend an atmosphere to the gathering that will be impressive. Senator Watson will discuss the war and either Private Peat or his wife will speak in the afternoon. As soon as they reach here, the program committee expects to make arrangements for one of them to talk in the afternoon and the other at night preceding the concert.

Two programs brimful of information and entertainment held the attention of two large audiences yesterday. The Boston Symphony Sextette, which was most heartily received, closed its engagement here with a postlude last night and today the Hruby Bohemian orchestra arrived for two entertainments. The lectures yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout of Illinois and Dr. Francis H. Green, institute lecturer were very entertaining and the showing of moving pictures of Sir Douglas Mawson's $300,000 expedition to the Antarctic region attracted a large crowd.

Chautauqua officials anticipated a large crowd tonight because the program will be provided by the Bohemian orchestra, which has a reputation in Rushville for providing first class music. The orchestra has appeared at the chautauqua here before. The program this afternoon consisted of an address by Dr. Arthur W. Evans, nephew of David Lloyd-George; an address by Dr. J. C. Beavers of Purdue university on wheat improvement and a postlude by the orchestra.

The prizes will be awarded in the flower contest conducted by the Rushville Womens Council tomorrow afternoon. This is always an event of great importance to the children. There will be no program Saturday night.

Is a Member of United States Signal Corps—Tells of Training Being Given.

Wilbur Snodgrass, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Snodgrass of this city, who is in the signal corps and stationed at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Tex., writes interestingly of the life at the fort in a letter received today. Young Snodgrass says part of his work consists of a lesson each day in French and believes he will soon be enroute to that country. The letter

in part follows:

As I have a few minutes to spare I will write and tell you the latest down here. We went out to target practice last Tuesday with the big 4.7 guns. We went out full pack, just as we will go after the Germans when we get after them, and we marched about five miles out over the desert through sand and cactus. The wheels of the guns sank into the sand about 18 inches, but we went, believe me, part of the time at a gallop and we made the sand fly.

The guns slipped and slid all over the hills. You know there are some good hills (sand dunes) out in the desert, and we went over them some. Our target was three miles away and we could not see it but our gunners cut it clear in two. Do you know what I mean by full pack?

Well my full pack takes in my blanket roll, that is made up of one blanket, one shelter-half, one tent pole, 5 aluminum tent pins, slicker, saddle bags with one feed bag, one grooming kit, etc., in one bag; a tooth brush, soap, comb, towel, one pair of socks, one suit of underwear in the other. All that stuff fastens on my saddle. And I carry one service telephone and buzzer, one flag kit with wig-wag and semaphore flags in it. One pair of $85 field glasses, one 1/2-mile reel of wire, one megaphone on my back and one automatic with holster and ammunition belt, full of ammunition.

Then Wednesday night we had a call to arms at 2 o'clock in the morning and we had to get all this junk together and saddle up in the dark. Some life, believe me. You should have seen them pile out. It took eleven minutes for the battery to get all of its equipment together and the horses hitched up to the guns, ready to get out and fight. You know this was all done in the dark and you scarcely heard a whisper. And Sunday night fire call blew at 11:52 and we all got out and in the ranks in six minutes, dressed. Then we double timed about a mile to the hay stacks that were on fire. Mexicans did it. You see it was baled hay piled up about fifty feet high and covered about five acres. We sure worked hard all night and all morning. I got my hand burned a little when I picked up a hot bale that was on fire underneath.

HOLD LINES DESPITE AN ATTACK IN FORCE

French Resist Efforts of Germans at Famous "Bon Klus" Corner North of Soissons

BITTER HAND TO HAND FIGHT

(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 10.—Germany made repeated attacks against the French line at the famous "Bon Klus" corner north of Soissons, the bend in the battle front nearest Paris, early today.

A terrific bombardment over a front of five miles was followed by infantry assaults which were marked by bitter hand to hand fighting. The French killed or captured all Germans who succeeded in reaching their positions and the lines were held despite the heavy attack. Three German battalions took part in the attack.

TO RAISE $50 HERE FOR AN AMBULANCE

Local Corps of Salvation Army Will Try to Reach Its Allotment in One Day

TO PLACE KETTLE ON STREET

Army Proposes to Raise One Million Dollars to Send 25 Ambulances to France

The Salvation Army throughout the United States has started to raise one million dollars for Salvation Army ambulance units to be used in the next twelve months for the work among the troops in France.

The Indiana branch of the Army has been asked to send one ambulance to France and Rushville's quota of the state's allotment is fifty dollars, according to Captain R. Van Egmond.

The Salvation Army workers will place the kettle which is always used at Christmas time, on the streets tomorrow and endeavor to raise the desired amount in one day. It is requested that all checks be made payable to the Salvation Army. Captain Van Egmond says that he is relying on the patriotic spirit of the people of Rush county to give the amount requested of the local corps tomorrow. He states that all money raised for the ambulances will be used in that work exclusively.

Already Colonel William S. Baker has gone to France to take charge of the Salvation Army ambulances, huts and hostels. Captain Van Egmond says. He has succeeded in making arrangements for the opening of the first hutment and hostel to be operated by the Salvation Army in connection with the expeditionary forces from America. The establishment of these two agencies represents an outlay of $17,000.

The Salvation Army ambulance work is the same as the Red Cross only that it is entirely operated by the Salvation Army. Each car sent to France by the Army will bear the name of the state it represents.

21 COAL MINES ARE CLOSED BY STRIKE

9,000 Miners Refuse to Work Unless Paid $1 More on Day—Governors of 4 States to Meet.

SLASH IN PRICES POSSIBLE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10.—Twenty-one coal mines will be closed today as a result of a strike of 9,000 miners, according to an announcement by representatives of Illinois coal operators. The mines affected have a combined output of 100,000 tons a day. The officers said the men were striking for $1 a day increase in wages because of "unfounded publicity given reports of enormous profits by operators."

Several hundred of the miners are already out, according to the officials, and others are expected to go out at once. The mines said to be affected are on the Northwestern, the Chicago and Alton and the Missouri Pacific railroads.

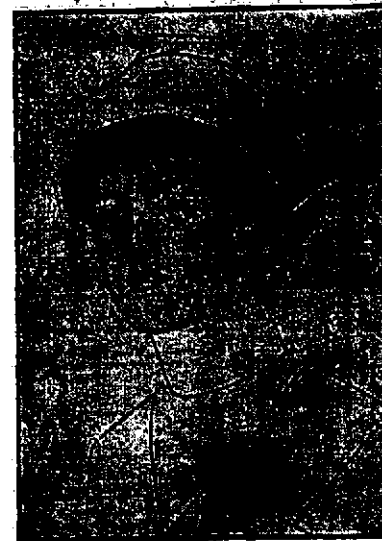

The report of the strike was followed by the announcement that the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois would meet in Chicago either late today or tomorrow for joint action in reducing coal prices.

The operators say a voluntary slash in prices is contemplated.

Harrison got under way today, bringing to a close 13 weeks of intensive, grilling training intended to fit members of the reserve camp for commissions in the new national army. The wind-up ceremonies will conclude next Wednesday when the first training camp closes to make room for a second contingent of reserve officers whose training will start August 27.

All day battle maneuvers (and a grand review of all student officers, at the camp by General Glenn and staff was to feature today's workout.

Amusements

The Princess will show Peggy Hyland and Antonio Moreno in "A Rose of the South" for the program tonight. It is a romance of the south during the Civil war and is said to tell a beautiful story. Tomorrow Charles Chaplin will be seen in his latest comedy, "The Immigrant."

With the beautiful emotional actress, Anna Little, in the part of "Bobbie," and the popular leading man, Frank Borzage, in the role of "The Stranger," the five act production of Kenneth B. Clark's unusual drama, "The Land O' Lizards," should prove a fine attraction at the Gem tonight. It is a powerful drama of the western plains. Tomorrow Shorty Hamilton will be seen in the comedy, "Shorty Lays a Jungle Ghost."

FAMOUS DUTCH ARTIST IN U. S.

Louis Raemaeker, Cartoonist, Whose Head Was Sought by Kaiser to Help

HAD HARD TIME GETTING HERE

Says Germany is Planning Now For Sympathy Following War—Here For Indefinite Stay

(By United Press.)

New York, August 10.—Louis Raemaeker, Dutch cartoonist on whose head the Kaiser set a price of 12,000 marks, for showing up the Hun in all his frightfulness, is in America and will attempt to rouse Americans to a full sense of the "brutal Boche," driving home his argument with his powerful cartoons.

Raemaeker arrived at an American port recently after playing hide and seek with the German spy system at London and evading U-boats whose commanders had orders to "get" him.

When seen at the Vanderbilt hotel he laughingly told how he evaded the Germans who were intent on preventing him reaching America.

He remained in London for several days then jumped over to France, where he apparently sailed on at least a dozen vessels bound for the United States. He would board a vessel at night. The German spies, "seeing him go aboard would feel satisfied they had him cornered but early the next morning or a few minutes before the ship sailed Raemaeker would quietly slip ashore and embark on another vessel. In this way he managed to keep the spies on a wild goose chase and eventually sailed unobserved.

Raemaeker told the United Press how Germany and "kultur" blighted Europe. "If the Kaiser tried to stop the war today I believe the people would depose him," he declared. "They abused him before the war for not starting one when he alone knew Germany was not quite prepared. Blood and iron are drilled into the German people from childhood. And now by a system of atrocities they are trying to bring about the moral and physical collapse of their opponents to make war so cruel that it will be shortened.

Raemaeker became furious as he discussed Germany. His blue eyes seemed to flash fire. He paced the floor, emphasizing his argument by pounding his fists on tables and chairs. "Germans do not talk about the atrocities committed by their men," he said. "They are too terrible. Yet they are right now planning organized sympathy, for after the war." "My idea is to conduct a trial after the war. A just trial where everyman's guilt will be tried, just like any criminal. Let no spirit of revenge prevail, but mete out to every man the punishment he deserves for the part he

DIARY FOUND ON PRISONERS

Participated in Destroying French Villages—Went Five Days Without Bread

(By United Press.)

With The French Armies, July 15 (By Mail)—Documentary evidence has just been secured by the French military authorities establishing that Germany's youngest classes of 19 and 20-year-old troops participated in the pillaging and destroying of French villages that preceded the German retreat of last March.

The following diary found on a German prisoner of the class of 1917 illustrates the mental attitude of these German boy soldiers towards the "military necessity" of sacking and ruining villages and private property.

played in the outrage."

"The German spy system is more perfect than their army. Every man is a potential spy."

Asked if he did not feel apprehensive for his personal safety Raemaeker shrugged his shoulders. "I am armed," he replied. "Again, if they murder me it will only accentuate, only spread what I am trying to teach.

Raemaeker is in America for an indefinite stay and his drawings, of the style that caused the Kaiser to place a price on his head will shortly appear in American newspapers and magazines.

Come In and Look Over The McCormick Corn Binder

YOUR corn is a valuable crop nowadays. You need all of it, can't afford to waste any, and must use the most economical way to harvest it. Of course hand cutting is very slow hard work, at a time when help is hardest to get. If the corn is down and tangled, with many short stalks, it is still much slower and more wasteful.

The McCormick corn binder is a wonder for the corn grower. It saves the hardest kind of labor and much time, gathers all your corn — short, long, down, tangled — into neat, easily-handled bundles. It is easy on the horses, convenient for the driver.

The more careful a buyer you are, the surer you are of buying a McCormick. Come in and see it.

Crop Worker to Come Last

The provost marshal at Washington has issued a statement printed in the Official Bulletin which may defer the drawing of farmers into the new army. He calls attention to the regulations regarding the draft which provide that certificates of discharge on ground of industrial necessity may be temporary may be used. He says it may be imperative necessary for men whose services are required in gathering the fall crops. Continuing he says:

Its termination will vary in the various regions and for the different crops, but can hardly continue beyond the third or fourth week of September, even in the most northerly latitudes.

Under supplementary regulations soon to be issued covering the procedure of mobilization into cantonments and carrying out the announcement of Presidential Regulations, section 48, last paragraph, the notice to persons accepted for service will not specify a fixed date for individuals to report for duty, but will leave this date to be later fixed. The Adjutant General will notify each local board to summon, say 20 per cent of its quota for a certain date, and so on. Each local board will select the individuals who shall form the successive contingents thus to be called.

The local board will have received from the district board a list of the men who have presented claims for temporary discharge on the ground

NOTICE

Of Proposed Tax Levies in Richland Township for the Year 1917.

The Trustees of Richland Township, Rush county, propose for the year 1917, the following levies by the Advisory Board at its annual meeting, to be held at the office of the trustee, on the 4th day of September, 1917, commencing at one o'clock p. m., the following estimates and amounts for said year: Township expenditures, $552.81, and township tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars. Local Tuition expenditures, $3,323.43, and tax 20 cents on the hundred dollars. Special School Tax expenditures, $6,069.75, and tax, 40 cents on the hundred dollars. Road Tax expenditures, $1,133.40, and tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars. Additional Road Tax expenditures, $1,000, and tax, 10 cents on the hundred dollars. Total expenditures, $12,377.99, and total tax, 90 cents on the hundred dollars. Net taxable property of township, $1,177,990. Aug. 10, 1917 E. A. FARTHING, Trustee, Aug 10-11 of necessity to gather crops. Certificates of discharge will not have been issued in such case; but the local board, on examining the papers concerning such claims, will be enabled, if it deems fit, to class those individuals in the contingent to be summoned at one of the later dates fixed by The Adjutant General.

Thus the temporary need of leaving these men at the crop work will be satisfied without complicating or diminishing the quota accounts by carrying those men as discharged temporarily.

For this reason it is recommended that certificates of temporary discharge be not given on the ground of crop work, unless in exceptional cases.

District boards, however, are instructed to list the persons claiming temporary discharge on the above ground, and to certify them to the respective local boards with a note showing the above claim to have been made and disallowed, so that the local board will thus be supplied with the information needed by them in postponing such men to later calls in the manner above described.

Women's Work

Every woman in Rush county will be asked to sign a pledge card in the Hoover food conservation movement, which is the part of a state wide movement. The State Council of Defense says a Hoover food card for every woman and little woman over twelve years of age has been obtained for signature before next Wednesday.

Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana volunteer representative of Herbert C. Hoover, national food administrator has received one million cards for use in the state. The cards will be pro rated according to population. They will be distributed through the women members of the county councils of defense.

Dr. Barnard is well pleased with the responses that have been received by his agents, who have visited every section of the state, preliminary to securing enrollments in the Hoover food conservation movement. He anticipates no great difficulty in securing a 100 percent registration.

The Hoover pledge cards when signed are to be returned to the food administrator, in Washington. The signing of the card binds the housewife to no obligation other than to abide by the suggestions that will be sent out from time to time by Mr. Hoover and his aides. There is no cost after the postage has been affixed to the card—1 cent. The suggestions from Mr. Hoover will be absolutely free. They will contain practical plans for saving food stuffs without depriving the family of sufficient wholesome, nourishing, palatable food. They will bring into an effective working organization the most resourceful food conservation agency on earth—the American housewife. The result will be, if the women of the nation, many of whom have almost exhausted their own resources in combating the high cost of living, will abide by the Hoover data, that a new era of economy will have been inaugurated which must have a far reaching effect. The most important accomplishment, of course, will be a guarantee of sufficient food for the American soldiers and for our allies in the war against Germany.

The housewife has every thing to gain in the Hoover enterprise she can't spend more than one cent necessary for postage, and she will have become a highly efficient volunteer in the greatest emergency her country has ever faced.

Certainly the American people are not slipping. Conservative estimates of statistics gathered from all parts of the country indicate that less than twenty-five per cent of the registrants being examined for the new national army have failed to pass because of physical unfitness. Records show that the average per cent during the civil war was twenty-six per cent.

"Sammy" Won't Stick
(Muncie Press)

The word "Sammy" which the press associations have been trying to hang on to the American soldier, will not stick. It is a belittling diminutive—a poor imitation of the British term "Tommy," which itself never would have originated at a time like this. In the rural parts of England the word "Sammy" is used as a nickname for a half-wit, and the American equivalent is a "nut." The American soldiers at the front are refusing to accept the name. They prefer the term used by the French, "Teddies," which at least has some fighting significance. But the diminutive is appropriate in describing an American soldier now. Call him a soldier and let it go at that.

"Attaboy," the slogan much used by American troops headed for France, is of American origin. It is a piece of baseball slang, used in coaching, and means "That's the boy." The use of the word has originated with the men themselves. Nicknames and slang generally must originate spontaneously in order to become a part of the language of the people. No one knows what starts or stops slang. Like Topsy, it "just grows."

Fort Wayne, August 7—One piece uniforms for women workers have been adopted by the Pennsylvania railroad which is employing many women in its local shops. The uniform consists of a suit bifurcated to the knees, and fastened with buttons or buckles at the ankles. Pennsylvania officials are planning an employment of women here when the labor shortage becomes acute as a result of the draft. The women will be paid the same wages as the men for the same class of work. They will used extensively in the distribution of materials, cleaning cars, and in machine shops and roundhouses.

were depicted in the showing of moving pictures of Sir Douglas Mawson's expedition last night. The lecturer with the pictures explained that the expedition sailed 30,000 miles, was gone 27 months and followed the coast line of a continent 11,000 long.

The pictures revealed the hardships which the expedition composed of sixty-six men, underwent in an effort to discover new things in the scientific world. Two men lost their lives on the expedition and Sir Douglas Mawson himself barely escaped after undergoing untold hardships when left alone 110 miles from the expedition's base.

Of especial interest were the reels showing the animal life of the region. The antics of the penguins were amusing. This animal is entirely different from any of other region. They are perfectly tame and yielded to the entreaties of the explorers to "make up." Pictures of seals, water elephants and of the many species of birds were also shown.

The terrible velocity of the wind could be plainly seen in the moving pictures. Men stood on high peaks and literally "leaned against" the wind and it was strong enough to overcome the forces of gravity. Records of the expedition disclose the average velocity of the wind was 50 miles an hour every day the expedition was out. Icebergs towering 200 feet above the water were shown and the hardships that were encountered both on land and sea were made plain by the excellent pictures. Dr. Francis H. Green, who lec-

SPY INFORMATION SENT FROM SWEDEN

Allied Secret Service Run Down German Submarine Intelligence Office at Gothenburg

MESSAGES SENT IN CODE

Movements of Ships Were Sent Out, Probably by Wireless—One Man Arrested

By ARTHUR E. MANN

Stockholm, July 11 (By Mail).—Allied secret service and intelligence officers, with the co-operation of the police of the Scandinavian countries, have recently succeeded in unearthing and dispersing a large and well organized German submarine intelligence office headquarters in Gothenburg, Sweden.

In their investigations the officers discovered a naval intelligence map of the waters surrounding the British Isles and the North Sea. The water area on the map was divided into small squares, each one numbered. An elaborate code was also found for use in conjunction with this map.

Messages based on this code, although apparently reading like private merchantile telegrams and cablegrams, could in reality be deciphered into accurate descriptions of Allied warships or of belligerent or neutral merchantmen.

From the spy headquarters in Gothenburg, agents were sent to Scandinavian ports and attempts were made, whether successful or not, to get them into England. These agents were supplied with the code and map mentioned and were reporting to headquarters on the sailings of merchantmen. It is supposed that in some way the headquarters in Gothenburg communicated the information to German submarines at sea, probably by wireless stations hidden along the coast.

One of the chief branches of the Gothenburg office was in Christiania and a Norwegian was actually engaged there to go to England on the espionage service, being supplied with the code and map in addition a process of invisible ink writing for mail reports. Another branch was in Malmo, Sweden. It is believed that many of the agents of the German spies in Gothenburg were Scandinavians. At about the same time of the discovery of the Gothenburg office, a German giving the name of Klein was arrested in Sweden, charged with a plot to murder British Ambassador Buchanan in Petrograd. Klein was afterward released but deported from Sweden.

tures twice each morning before the teachers institute, gave his only lecture before the chautauqua yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. He amused and entertained the audience with good stories and anecdotes.

Dr. Green said he was going to talk about, "The Six Great Cities." He declared that he would not speak of New York, Chicago, Boston, Paris, London or any of the other wonderful cities of the world, and the audience was beginning to wonder just what he considered the greatest cities in the world. As he mentioned each city which he was going to talk about, Dr. Green made some facetious observation that convulsed the audience. For instance, he said he thought it very appropriate that there should be a river at one end and a cemetery at the other end of Wall Street.

But finally the crowd was let in on the secret. Dr. Green meant all the time by his reference to "The Six Great Cities," the words, "Simplicity, Capacity, Vivacity, Tenacity, Veracity, Felicity." When he had concluded, the audience was of the belief that Dr. Green had said more in his allotted time and had more real worth while thoughts than any lecturer who has been at the assembly this year.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, called attention in her lecture yesterday afternoon to the fact that nearly all nations at war had given their women suffrage since the war began because they had come to realize the value of women for the part they had taken in the conflict.

She pointed out that the Illinois suffrage law was like Indiana's

Columbia University Preparing to Turn Out Linguists By The Hundreds

FOR SERVICE DURING WAR

Will Enter Army With Rank of Sergeant—Handy Also For Department of Justice

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 10.—Expert interpreters by the hundreds will soon be needed to carry on the business of Uncle Sam's new national army abroad.

Complete courses in military interpretation of foreign languages, approved by Secretary Baker and the war college, are being offered for the summer at Columbia University, where linguists of every variety will be turned out for home and field service during the war. They will enter the army with the rank of sergeant.

First class interpreters, the War Department has found, are a hard class to muster into the service in large numbers. An applicant for the preliminary training course must be able to fluently speak and be able to read either French or German. His business will not be merely to translate military documents and letters. He must converse intelligently and aid officers with only a knowledge of English in carrying on that part of their business which must be done in foreign countries.

Before receiving appointment to the service the applicant must pass the regular army physical examination—almost as big a job as learning a couple of languages. He must also prove American birth and loyalty to the cause of the United States. His family tree is thoroughly probed in a search for flaws. The thoroughly trained interpreter is immediately assigned to duty, for the government is at present shy of linguists. If he completes the course before the national army needs him, he may be assigned to duty in the camp where thousands of aliens are temporarily interned, or to the Department of Justice investigation service.

that it granted women only part suffrage and that it was next to impossible to amend the state constitution to get full suffrage. She declared that when God gave Adam and Eve dominion over the world, it was not granted to Adam alone but to both of them.

Mrs. Trout recalled that the arguments now being used against granting women the ballot were the same as those used against suffrage for all classes of men many years ago. She pointed out that first only kings had the right of suffrage and then it was gradually granted to men by degrees. She recalled that it was not many years that English farmers had been voting. Mrs. Trout lamented the fact that the women of Iceland and Denmark could vote and the majority of the women of the United States could not.

It was with great regret that the audience parted with the Boston Symphony Sextette last night. The Sextette played, "My Rosary," and the Second Hungarian Rhapsody last night and yesterday afternoon the favorites were the sextette from "Lucia" and selections from the light opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

Prof. E. P. Trueblood of Earlham college spoke last night and President Mills of Hanover college spoke in the afternoon concerning the Boys Working Reserve which the State Council of Defense is organizing for the purpose of meeting the labor shortage. The speakers urged the boys under military age enroll with the county organizer, C. M. George, who was appointed by the County Council of Defense. Little is expected to be accomplished by the movement this year, but it will be organized for next summer.

Dr. George R. Gross, president of DePauw university will lecture tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. He is making a tour of the state under the auspices of the State Council of Defense.

GERMAN PLANES ARE DEFECTIVE

Aircraft Built in a Hurry, There Should Be a Warning To United States

NOT ENOUGH PRECAUTION

In One Week Seven German Planes Were Seen To Break in The Air And Hurl To Earth

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British officers in the Field, July 10 (By Mail)—There's a lesson to the United States not to make haste too precipitately, in recent air battles here. The structural defects of the German aircraft have been strongly illustrated of late. They were machines hurriedly built as a result of Germany's "speeding up" of aeroplane construction. Now that America is going to hustle up and build great fleets of such craft she will do well to note some of the results of too much speed and not enough precaution.

In one week recently seven German planes were seen literally to break up in the air, the pilots and observers being hurled to the earth below. These accidents were unmistakably the result of faulty construction. Two other Prussian bi-planes suddenly burst into flames in the view of British fighters—for no accountable reason.

Moreover, the new German planes are exceedingly vulnerable, probably due to faulty material and rush work. One British lieutenant the other day fired 40 rounds at 25 yards range—and broke the German's wing's clear off. Another British fighter turned his machinegun fire at the tail of one of fifteen Prussian machines, from a distance of 60 yards. The Zoche's tail slid clear off and the machine crashed to earth.

On the same day as this last incident, five British flyers attacked a fleet of Albatross scouts among the clouds. The fighters got separated shortly in the fleecy clouds and then it was every man for himself. One British captain, after driving off 3 Germans, hid in a cloud and awaited the fourth, whom he saw approaching. At the correct moment, the Britisher dived out, got below his enemy, and fired 58 shots. He broke the German plane completely in two.

On the following day a British airfighter, battling with nine planes, broke one into several pieces with a few shots, and then saw two other of his enemies burst into flames. One fell, like a comet, the second burned slowly. On this second one the pilot unable to bear the agony of the fire, leaped out. The observer, left with a pilotless machine, crawled out along the fuselage, but fell off as the plane reared and plunged.

Once again, six British flyers attacked twelve enemy planes. One of the German machines burst into flames, one was crumpled by gunfire, and another just simply collapsed after 18 rounds of fire.

The moral is that Americans will need the best machines and their best men against the Germans. Even then it would be foolhardy to expect a walkover.

Right now the German high command is grouping his flyers, aware of the British aerial supremacy,—as a year ago he grouped artillery into traveling "circuses". The idea is that since the Germans are unable to maintain equality of the air everywhere along the front, they can concentrate a flying "circus" at some weak spot, or at some place in the line which is threatened.

SCIENTIFIC USE OF FOOD URGED

Dr. Barnard Says Human Body is Like Machine, Some Requiring More Fuel Than Others

DESIGNATES THE CLASSES

Suggests That Foods be Selected With View of Obtaining Number of Calories Necessary

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana's food director, today urged scientific eating for every resident of the state, as a valuable aid in the nation's "win the war" food campaign.
He said:
"The scientist looks at the human body through the same glasses through which he views an automobile. He knows that it takes a certain amount of fuel to run the human engine just as it does the engine made in the machine shop from iron and steel. He also knows that the amount of fuel required depends altogether upon the amount of work to be done. A racing automobile burns large quantities of gas and much oil. A man hard at work likewise needs much fuel.
"We measure fuel values in calories just as we measure weight by the pound. A calorie means the amount of energy that a given food contains. It is easy to calculate how much energy a man at vigorous, muscular work requires to keep him going from morning until night. It is also easy to analyze the food he eats to determine how much energy it contains in the form of fat and protein and sugar and starches. We have then a simple system of measurement which once understood can be used in the preparation of every meal and in serving food to every member of the household.
"The food experts have measured the daily energy requirement for each pound of body weight. The following table shows that number of calories one must take in his food to meet the needs of the body:
Daily energy requirement for each pound of body weight.
For a person at complete rest, 14 to 16 calories; For a person doing light work, 16 to 28 calories; For a person doing moderate work, 18 to 20 calories; For a person doing hard work, 20 to 23 calories.
"Complete rest includes reading, resting and sitting at meals.
"Light work consists of walking, standing at one's work, as in cook-

DECORATED FOR RECOVERING BODY

Under Protection of Machine Guns He Dragged Comrade Back to French Lines

AWARDED LEGION OF HONOR

Was in Full View of the Enemy But They Dared Not Come Out to Fight Him

By HENRY WOOD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
With the French Armies, July 10 (By Mail) —Captain Garandeau, who began the present war as a sergeant, has been awarded the Legion of Honor for recovering under most exceptional circumstances the body of a French officer killed just in front of the German trenches.
While French machinegun operators, hundreds of yards behind the French lines, executed a barrage fire of protection over the dead body, Garandeau in full daylight and under the eyes of both the French and the Germans, crept face downward to the spot, and attaching the body to his leg with a rope, successfully dragged it back into the French lines.
ing, dish washing, or bed making, hand and machine sewing, type writing and the like.
"Moderate work not only involves a good many muscles but also causes enough strain to harden and enlarge them. Outdoor farm work, housecleaning, and heavy sweeping are included under this heading. Lumbering, excavating and certain farm activities constitute even heavier work than this.
"In order to determine the amount of food one should eat to keep in good condition is only necessary to multiply the body weight by the number of calories suggested as sufficient for a person at the different kinds of work shown in the table and then to select the foods and the amounts of each which will supply the demand."

The dead officer, Lieutenant Seve by name, together with his orderly named Olmo, had been killed during a night raid on the German trenches. Immediately afterwards another party had left the French trenches for the purpose of bringing back the two bodies, but after searching all night in vain, came back in the morning empty handed.
During the course of the forenoon the French finally succeeded in locating with strong field glasses the bodies lying in the tall grass just in front of a German trench and where any effort to recover them would be in full view of the enemy.
As it was certain that if the bodies were left there till night, the Germans would be able to ambush anyone who sought to recover them, Captain Garandeau, who barely knew the dead officer personally volunteered to bring back the body in full daylight. The only possible protection that could be offered him was for the French machinegun operators to keep the dead bodies constantly covered with a barrage fire so that at least the Germans would not be able to creep out of their trenches and engage a hand-to-hand fight with the rescuer.
Accompanied by a soldier named Verdier who also volunteered for the task, Garandeau left the French trenches being obliged to cut his way through the French barbed-wire entanglements with nippers even before reaching the open space of No-Man's-Land.
By crawling flat on his face and taking advantage of all natural cover Garandeau was able to keep out of the range of the Germans who could neither fire at him or hurl hand grenades without exposing themselves to the deadly machine-gun barrage with which the French were covering his worm-like progress.
Within an hour Garandeau, after reaching the body of Seve and tying it to his leg, had successfully dragged it back into the French line.
Inspired by his exploits volunteers immediately came forward and insisted on being allowed to go after the body of Olmo in the same manner. Sergeant Crotet and three soldiers were finally granted permission and before 8 in the evening they too returned to the French trenches dragging the body tied to their legs.

Simultaneously with the decoration of Garandeau today with the Legion of Honor, the sergeant and soldiers who participated in the exploit received also the Croix de Guerre.

Finished Nigger, Jones Thought, With No. 13

(By United Press.)
Evansville, Ind., Aug. 10.—A dismal groan from Unie Jones, colored, was the answer to the call for "Number 13" by officials of the second district exemption board here.
"It's me, boss," wailed Une. "But, Oh, Lordie, I'm a finished nigger with that number 13."
Unie passed examination but filed claim for exemption.

"JACKIES" FLOCK INTO CHICAGO

Men From Naval Training Station And Student Officers Seek Pleasure There

SPEND MONEY VERY FREELY

One Boy Wanted To Send Telegram To Mother On Her Birthday And Needed Help

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The "man on leave" is becoming a familiar sight here.

Thousands of students from the officers reserve training corps at Fort Sheridan and "Jackies" from the Great Lakes Naval Training station at Lake Bluffs, are using Chicago for their pleasure jaunts.

A bluejacket ashore is said to be one of the most irresponsible persons as far as finances are concerned, and those at the Great Lakes apparently are no exception to the general rule. They are telling a story out there now of a boy who came back bringing with him two fancy waist-coats for which he could have no possible use. Asked what he would do with them he said: "Well, they had sold out of everything else and I don't like to go 'ashore' without buying something."

Chicagoans apparently regard the men as personal guests. Newsboys gaze admiringly at the bluejackets pass; Young men stop them and ask questions concerning life in the navy; Young women beg lanyards and other souvenirs from their uniforms. On Sundays and holidays most of the public parks are dotted with strolling bluejackets.

Typical of this kindly feeling, which is manifesting itself here toward those men who are donning uniforms in defense of the nation was a little incident in a Chicago telegraph office, recently. A freckled boy in navy blue with a cowlick, carrying his left temple was struggling with a telegram blank and a method of procedure, he was experiencing difficulty when a little wispy of an elderly woman stepped up and said: "Can I help you?" The boy stammeringly said, "Why, yes, if you will. You see it's my mother's birthday and I must send her a telegram telling her I story out there now of a boy who wished her happiness."

URGES THAT TAX LEVY BE REDUCED

State Tax Commissioners Call Attention to 60 Million Added to Taxables This Year

OPEN LETTER TO OFFICIALS

Asks That Where Increase in Valuation Warrants it, That Levies be Cut Down

An open letter to county councils, boards of commissioners, city councils, school boards, advisory boards and library boards has been sent by the state board of tax commissioners calling attention to the fact that almost $60,000,000 has been added to the taxables of the state this year and urging the tax boards which have the power to make tax levies to remember the increase and reduce their levies accordingly.

GETS MARVELOUS SET OF PICTURES

French Aviator Has Hobby For Photographing Every Time He Shoots At Boche Machine

OTHERS NOW TAKING UP IDEA

(By United Press.)

Paris July 25 (By Mail)—Probably the most marvelous collection of war aviation photographs in the world are in possession of Captain Guynemer, the noted French flying champion, who takes a photograph every time he shoots at a Boche airplane.

Attached to the French flyer's machine gun is a camera—a repeating camera. A pull of the trigger on the gun operates the picture machine.

The novel idea for procuring war pictures is believed to be Guynemer's own. But it has proved such a great success that every fighting machine in the Lafayette Escadrille will be likewise equipped. The photos will undoubtedly some day make their appearance in America.

The letter, which was received here this morning follows:

Through vigilance of assessing officers and by reason of enhanced values incident to considerations affecting the country, the taxables of the state have been increased almost $60,000,000 during the present year, and your especial attention is called to this fact at this time so that it may not be lost sight of when you come to make your levies for 1917.

One of the arguments made for a low assessment, even in violation of the law, is that taxing authorities do not take notice of increased values, but on the contrary take advantage of such increases to wring more money from taxpayers because of such increases, and thereby add to the burden of taxation. There should be no basis for such an argument, and the state tax board earnestly hopes that where the increase in values is sufficient to warrant a reduction in levies, that same may be afforded.

The state tax board is solicited that all taxing officers shall do their whole duty under the statute. This will apply to the fixing of levies, as well as the listing of values. Levies should not be made in excess of the needs of government, economically administered. The ratio of increase of taxables should have a compensation in the ratio of decrease of levies, other conditions remaining the same.

Kindly promulgate the contents of this open letter by calling the attention of the local press to the same, and permitting publishers to make such comments on the subject as local facts warrant—all in the interest of good government.

DISTRICT BOARD MAKES STATEMENT

Exemption Claim on Industrial or Agricultural Grounds Must be Supported by Affidavits

SHOWING THE MAN IS NEEDED

Provost Marshal Urges Local Boards to Reduce Discharges For Dependency to Plain Cases

Postmaster G. P. Hunt received a notice this morning from Miles F. Porter, chairman of the exemption board for this district which sits at Fort Wayne, calling attention to methods of procedure before the board. The board says that the registrant making claim for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds must submit affidavits to prove that the enterprise in which he is engaged is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment.

The provost marshal has issued a statement at Washington, which has been sent to all governors and will be transmitted to the local boards, instructing them to "reduce discharges for dependency to a more restricted class and to very necessities and clearly defined circumstances. Because as high as 80 per cent. of the registrants in some districts are filing claims for exemption, the provost marshal believes unfair advantage is being taken of the regulations designed to protect men who properly deserve exemption from service.

Postmaster Hunt received the following from the district board regarding method of procedure:

First: Do not file claims for exemption until you have been certified from the Local Board to the District Board.

Second: Applicants for exemption are not to appear before the board until they have been asked to do so by the board.

Third: Individuals cannot be exempted solely for the reason that they are engaged in any industrial or agricultural enterprise.

Fourth: The individual making claim for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds must submit affidavits to prove that the enterprise in which he is engaged is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or the maintenance of national interest during emergency; that the continuance of such person in said enterprise is necessary to the maintenance of such enterprise and that he cannot be replaced by another person without material loss and detriment to the effective operation of said enterprise.

Fifth: All claims for exemption should be accompanied by affidavits in support of the claim. Those who have sent in claims without such affidavits should immediately supply the board with the affidavits necessary.

The message to the governors from the provost marshal follows:

"Sec. 2 of the selective service law exempts no person for military service on the ground of dependency. It only authorizes the President to exclude or discharge from draft those in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge advisable."

"The controlling necessity is to raise an army. It is advisable to disturb dependents just as little as the necessity of raising an army will permit. To this end Sec. 18 of the regulations was compiled carefully and after the most earnest consideration. If experience is to prove that the generous conditions prescribed by Sec. 18, or any abuse of them, will interfere with the raising of an army, then it is no longer advisable to discharge so wide a class and the conditions stated therein will have to be restricted until an advisable rule is reached.

"Nothing has happened to change the belief that the persons enumerated in Section Eighteen could be discharged without interfering with the raising of an army, but there are indications that abuses of Section Eighteen may render its continuance no longer advisable."

"Reports are to the effect that, in some districts as high as 80 per cent. of persons called before local boards are filing claims for discharge on the ground of dependent relatives. Such a percentage of claims when viewed in connection with all available statistics indicates beyond question, that advantage is being taken of the provisions of the law and regulations which were intended to reduce to a minimum the misery at home normally attendant upon war.

"There is a moral certainty, in the extravagance of this percentage, that hundreds of unfounded claims are included in these totals."

"This state of affairs greatly increases the burden of local boards for, if so high a percentage of registrants claim exemption, only the uncompromising action of local boards can prevent a new regulation on the subject of dependency, which shall reduce discharges for dependency to a far more restricted class and to very necessities and clearly defined circumstances."

"In the absence of a stern repression by local boards of unmeritorious claims this result is inevitable since any such percentage of exemptions as reports of claims indicate would nullify the law and prevent the raising of an army."

"It is thus apparent that the filing of these improper claims will react directly and injuriously on persons whom the present regulations were designed to protect and that the welfare of persons who have filed bona fide claims under the present generous clauses of the regulations is seriously imperiled by persons who have filed claims without merit, and that the only protection of persons whose cases are within the meaning of the present rules lies in the power of local boards to refuse exemption in every doubtful case."

"It is true that cases of discharge on the ground of dependency are appealable to the district board, but this clause is only inserted to secure uniformity of action. District boards are to examine these cases to discover departures from the law, regulations and rulings; and they will not and can not open every case on its merits. It is in the local boards alone, therefore, that the solution of the difficulty and the protection of deserving claimants lies."

BEGINS STRUGGLE WITH WAR TAX BILL

Senate Finds Obstruction Immediately in The Form of A Substitute Measure

A FIGHT ON TO TAX COTTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The senate today began its struggle with the $26,097,000 war tax bill.

Its legislative course which promises to be a rocky one, was beset immediately by a substitute measure, drawn by Senators Gore, LaFollette and Thomas, of Colorado, who would raise the entire revenue through incomes and excess profits.

Senator Weeks proposed to equalize war profits so that companies which before the war were not enjoying large profits will not have to pay as heavy a war tax now as those which made huge prewar profits.

Certain wheat states senators will start their fight to tax cotton, in return for what they call virtually a tax on wheat in the food control bill. They would tax cotton on the ground that its use by shell manufacturers make it a munition of war.
